"He who makes two blades of grass grow, where but one grew before, is a public benefactor."

Akin to such an accomplishment is the work of the merchant, who by reduced expenses, ampler resources, and better business methods, accomplishes the task of placing upon the market the necessaries of life, at a reduced percentage of profit.

This is the task to which we have addressed ourselves, and which we are successfully working out. We occupy Fort Wayne, LaFayette and Terre Haute, three of the chief cities of the state.

We have discovered that the man who retails one million dollars' worth of Furniture and Carpets yearly, can buy his goods 10 per cent. less than one who sells $30,000 worth, and we have also discovered that such an enormous business is profitable, if only this 10 per cent. that is saved is the amount of profit made. In other words, the company that retails one million can sell at what the goods cost the man who sells $30,000, and yet make a gross profit of one hundred thousand dollars annually.

In saying this we have said nothing that you did not know before, but perhaps we have impressed upon your mind the fact that when you want

You can save a good deal of money by purchasing of the

SORROW AT THE CAPITAL.

The Tracy Fire Horror the Theme of Conversation at Washington--Investigating the Origin.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4,—Secretary Tracy appears to be considerably improved this morning and rapidly recovering from the effects of suffocation. As the effects of opiates wear off he begins to realize more firmly the loss of his wife and daughter. The reaction from opiates administered yesterday naturally leaves him physically weaker.

His son Frank reached Washington at 1 o'clock this morning and remained at the executive mansion during the night. This morning he went to the house of Bancroft Davis and joined General Catlin, Mrs. Tracy's brother, and a few friends, who remained with his father.

President Harrison will possibly join them there after the funeral of Mrs. Coppinger, which he is now attending, and arrange for removing the secretary to the executive mansion. The arrangements for the funeral of Mrs. Tracy and her daughter will be decided upon at the same time. The latest reports from the others who were injured at the fire, state that they are getting along very nicely.

There are various theories as to the cause of yesterday's conflagration. Baffled at every other turn, many minds naturally turn to incendarism and have plenty of clews to support such a theory. The suddenness with which the fire broke out in all parts of the house and the apparent stupor of some of the inmates seem to demonstate that incendiarism had followed an attempted, if not successful, robbery. A large sum of money was found in the back yard, about $600, and it is argued that persons in danger of their lives, as were secretary and Mrs. Tracy, would never think of throwing the money out of the window. Every theory which has thus far been advanced will be carefully investigated.

The commissioners have directed Building Inspector Entwisle to make a thorough examination of the heating apparatus of the house, and he will be assisted by Chief of Police Harris. One of the principal architects in Washington has examined the destroyed house. He says that the heat used was steam; that the main steam pipe rose through the house was confined in a wooden well. In his opinion, this wood had thoroughly dried during the past two months, and finally, reaching the ignition point yesterday morning, suddenly went off like tinder.

Bridget Sweeney, the laundress, was not in the house when the fire was discovered. She left it a few minutes previously to attend church and according to her story there was no evidence of fire when she departed.

The effects of the awful tragedy are widespread in society. The carrying of the bodies of the two dead ladies to the white house, and their burial from there virtually ends the official hospitalities of the season. Were it otherwise the president and Mrs. Harrison, in the face of the successive calamities in the cabinet household, could not feel able to go on with any works of a public social character. As soon as the deaths of Mrs. and Miss Tracy were known yesterday, nearly all the prominent families who had cards out for parties that would occur this week, sent private and public messages to withdraw them.

The funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy will take place from the president's mansion at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. The services will occur in the east room. Their remains will be placed temporarily in vaults in Rock Creek cemetery. The complete arrangements for the funeral will not be perfected until late this afternoon.

Secretary Tracy was removed to the white house at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

The Members Vote Not to Seat Goff by 40 to 43.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 4.—The investigating committee on Harris charges reported to day exonorating Goff and Fleming from any attempt to corrupt any member of the legislature, but that there was sufficient evidence to cause a suspicion against Stollinger.

A vote was then taken on Judge Maxwell's resolution to seat Goff, resulting, yeas 40, nays 43. It was a strict party vote, President Carr voting with the democrats. A vote was then taken on Chairman Keeye's resolution to seat Fleming, resulting, yeas 43, nays 40, Carr again voting with the democrats.

Five Hundred Miners Strike.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Feb. 4.—All the miners and day hands, some five hundred in number, employed in the mines of Cabel & Co., quit work yesterday on account of a difficulty between the bank boss of Maple Valley mine and some miners. Meetings are being held, however, and it is thought certain that the existing differences will be amicably adjusted and that the men will return to work at once.

WANT THEIR INDEPENDENCE.

Young Men of Toronto Look Forward to Canada's Freedom From Great Britain's Power.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 4.—The young mens' liberal club passed the following resolutions last night by a unanimous vote:

WHEREAS, The house of commons has adopted an address to her majesty, the queen, setting forth, among other things, that the Canadian people desire to perpetuate the political connection now existing between this country and the motherland.

Resolved, That the members of this club, while having a sincere admiration and regard for British constitutional government, and a deep and abiding attachment for our kin across the sea, earnestly desire and confidently look forward to the establishment in our land of a nationality independent of Great Britain and free from all European complications, and we are of the opinion that our parliamentary representatives would act more in harmony with the wishes of their constituents if, instead of presenting addresses of a reactionary character, declaring their attachment to British connection, they would endeavor to secure for the Canadian people a larger degree of self-government and thus prepare the way for the complete independence of Canada.

DINED IN STYLE.

Twenty-one Tramps Take Meals at a Decatur Restaurant and Pay Ten Cents for the Whole Feast.

DECATUR, Ind., Jan. 4.—Twenty-one tramps met in this city Sunday, ordered meals at a restaurant, and after they had eaten, compelled the proprietor to accept ten cents as payment in full. They then made their way beyond the city limits and camped.

Yesterday a posse from Willshire, O., a town about ten miles east of here, came in quest of persons who had Saturday night burglarized several stores at that place. Among those in the posse were John Zaman, a clothing merchant who had several suits of clothes stolen, and a hardware merchant, who had been robbed of about twenty-five revolvers and a lot of cartridges.

On visiting the camp, Zaman observed that his missing clothing was worn by several of the tramps. On attempting to arrest them they produced the stolen revolvers and defied the police. Finally three of those wearing stolen clothes were captured. No one was injured in the fight excepting Policeman Smith, who received a slight wound on the head. Eighteen of the tramps escaped.

SHOT AND KILLED.

Mark M. Herr Murdered on the Pacific Coast--A Texas Tragedy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 4.—Mark M. Herr, formerly assistant sergeant-at-arms of the United States house of representatives, was shot and killed here last night by Jack Naughton, a man whom he had befriended for years. Naughton had been acting as an agent for one of the shady insurance schemes of this city and the fatal quarrel occurred over Naughton's acts in appropriating some of their funds. Herr was well-known on the coast and in Washington. He was a son-in-law of Surveyor General John A. Benson and had strong political backing during the Cleveland administration.

COLMESNIL, Texas, Feb. 4.—Captain W. J. Calvin, of the Ross light infantry, was shot dead here last night by J. W. Ashburner, a constable. Calvin was unarmed and there is said to have been no provocation for the shooting. Ashburner fled and is still at large.

IN FRONT OF A MIRROR

Stood a Traveling Man as He Sent a Bullet Into His Own Heart.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4.—W. R. Burnett, a traveling salesman, who registered as from Washington, at Green's hotel yesterday, committed suicide in his room at 1:15 o'clock this morning. He stood in front of the mirror in his underclothing and put a bullet in his heart. He was dead when two men rushed into his room.

Victims of the Wilkesbarre Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 3.—The bodies of the entombed miners in the Nottingham shaft were found yesterday and were taken out horribly burned.

LAW RULES OUR NATION!

The One Hundredth Anniversary of the Organization of the Supreme Court Celebrated at New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The exercises attendant upon the centennary celebration of the organization of the supreme court of the United States took place in this city to-day. At 10 o'clock the procession, headed by the judges of the supreme court, members of the United States in full official robes, followed by the representatives of the federal district court of New York, court of appeals, the supreme, superior, common, and other courts, marched down the various aisles of the opera house, and assumed the various seats and boxes alloted to them.

The members of the supreme court of the United States occupied seats on the stage with ex-President Grover Cleveland and many legal dignataries. When at 10:30, Mr. Cleveland took his place as president of the assemblage, there was loud and prolonged cheering and he delivered the speech of welcome.

When Mr. Cleveland, who had been enthusiastically received throughout, had finished speaking the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix offered prayer.

Judge Wm. H. Arnoux followed with an address of "Welcome to the Court."

The next speaker was Mr. Wm. Allen Butler.

The Hon. Henry Hitchcock, of Missouri, followed in an able discourse on "The Supreme Court and the Constitution," which elicited much applause. "Personal Characters of the Chief Justices" was the subject handled by Mr. Thomas J. Semmes, of Louisianna. Edward J. Phelps, of Vermont, next read a paper entitled "The Supreme Court and the Sovereignty of the People." Mr. Justice Field then, amid much applause and in his usual eloquent manner, responded for the court.

Justice Field, after a tribute to the bar of the state of New York, recalled with pleasure his connection with it prior to his departure for the Pacific coast in 1849. In every age and with every people, he said, there have been celebrations of triumphs in war and of triumphs in peace, but never has there been, in any country, a celebration like this to commemorate the establishment of a judicial tribunal as a co-ordinate and permanent part of this government.

This celebration had its inspiration in the conviction that this tribunal has materially contributed to the just appreciation and ready obedience to the constitution of the United States. This constitution was essential to that dual government by which alone free institutions can be maintained in a country so widely extended as ours.

This constitution which has been productive of such vast results, was the outgrowth of institutions and doctrines inherited from our ancestors and applied under the new conditions of our country. The possibility of a dissolution of the union of states was never considered by its framers, and in all its provisions, as Justice Chase aptly remarked, "Looks to an indestructible union composed of indestructible states." Even the late civil war could not shake its stability. The judicial department, established under this constitution is co-extensive. It reaches to every judicial question which arises under the constitution, treaties and laws of the United States.

In some cases, the justice said, the court may have made mistakes. The judges would be more than human if this was not so. But they have striven to the utmost of their abilities to be right and perform functions to the advancement of justice and the good of the country.

As to the needs of the supreme court, Justice Field said, that it should not be burdened with work, and should have some relief from the immense burden cast upon it. Every suitor, however humble, should be given an opportunity to be heard.

Up to the middle of the present century the calendar of the court did not average 140 cases a term; the calendar of the present term exceeds 1,500. Something should be done to relieve the crowded docket, and that speedily. It becomes more and more the duty of the court to firmly enforce every guarantee of the constitution. "Sustained by professional and public confidence."

Justice Field concluded, "the supreme court may hope to still further strengthen the hearts of all in love, admiration and reverence for the constitution of the United States, not the least inheritance possessed by a free people."

Mr. Field, resuming his seat, and after a few selections by the band, the Rev. Talbot, of the Collegiate Reformed church, delivered the benediction and the immense audience dispered. Tonight the banquet will be held at the Lennox Lyceum.

CONGRESS.

Speaker Reed Continues to Count the Democrats as Voting.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—In the house this morning the democrats demanded the reading of the journal in full, and when it was completed Mr. Springer declared that a part had been omitted and demanded the reading of the omitted portion.

The speaker paid no attention to Mr. Springer, but recognized Mr. McKinley, who moved the approval of the journal and demanded the previous question, which was ordered 165 to none, all the members of the democratic side being entered in the journal as present and not voting.

CARLISLE'S STATEMENT.

An address to the country, explaining the position of the democratic members of the house, has been prepared by ex-Speaker Carlisle. It has been signed by all the democratic members of the house. It reviews the facts that led to the present situation in the house, and concludes as follows:

The claim of the majority that they have a right to govern the house without attending its sessions and taking part in the conduct of its business is too preposterous to require refutation. It must be evident to any one who understands the position taken by the democratic minority in the house that it cannot possibly result in any injury to the country, or any injustice to the majority. Its only effect will be to compel the republican majority, elected by the people, to assume the responsibility imposed upon them.

On the other hand, no one can foresee the evils that may result from the inauguration of the practice of counting votes not cast in order to make a quorum. Under it a minority of the members-elect to the house and senate may pass the most tyrannical laws for the oppression of the people, the most corrupt laws for the spoliation of the public treasury. Whether so intended or not, its direct tendency is to break down the barriers heretofore existing for the protection of the citizen against the encroachments of power and the spoliation of the treasury by destroying the limitation which the constitution has wisely imposed upon the legislative department. Constitutions are made to restrain majorities and protect minorities. A majority ruling without limitations or restrains upon its power is a pure despotism, and is inconsistent with our system of government.

STRAY TELEGRAMS.

Little Ticks Bunched Together Under One Head.

COVINGTON, Ind., Feb. 4.—The February term of the circuit court convened here yesterday. Over fifty witnesses have been subpeonæd to investigate the cases of thirty white caps, who took the Rev. Mr. Lindsey out of church a few months ago and compelled him to leave town.

It is believed several of the white caps will be identified. If any of them are convicted the lightest sentence that can be given is two years in the penitentiary.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The Times says that a syndicate of New York and Philadelphia capitalists, hostile to President Corbin, has succeeded in purchasing a controlling interest in the stock of the Reading Railroad company. Among the members of the syndicate are John Wanamaker, Thomas Dolan, Mayor Fitler, Messrs. Elkins and Widner, and a number of standard oil capitalists.

PEORIA, Feb. 4.—A freight train on the Ohio, Indiana and Western road, with twenty loaded cars, plunged into the Illinois river at seven o'clock last night. Engineer Mellville, Fireman O'Brien and Brakeman Lewis were buried in the water and drowned.

WABASH, Feb. 4.—Late Sunday night, when near Benton Harbor, the fine sleeping and chair car, St. Joseph, belonging to the Cincinnati, Wabash and Michigan road, was almost entirely destroyed by fire, which originated from the explosion of a lamp. The train was running forty miles an hour when the coach took fire.

Rev. Talmage Arrives in New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The Cunarder Aurania arrived from Liverpool yesterday, having on board Rev. Dr. Talmage, wife and daughter. Dr. Talmage left here on October 30, for a trip through Europe and the Holy Land. Many friends of the doctor's were at the dock to bid him welcome.

A GAY DECEIVER.

James Wilkinson Runs Down J. L. McQuaid, a Bigamist.

Through a peculiar chain of circumstances, and careful detective work, Mr. James Wilkinson, manager of the Diamond hotel, and ex-deputy United States marshal, has succeeded in having one J. L. McQuaid, a bigamist, placed behind the bars.

The case is a sensational one.

On the 8th of last December, there registered at the Diamond hotel, a rather handsome man, of dandy air, and a woman of pretty appearance and refined manners. The man registered as J. L. McQuaid and wife, Pittsburg, Pa.

It was plainly discernible that the couple were but newly bride and groom, and the latter went so far as to say that they had been married at Toledo, only a few days previous.

The couple stayed at the hotel until the following Wednesday, when Mr. McQuaid sent his wife to her parents at Fowlersville, Mich.

Mr. McQuaid then took Mr. Wilkinson aside and said confidentially that he was traveling for Coates & Co., hay rake manufacturers, Alliance, Ohio, and that he had drawn on his firm for $25, having sent the draft that morning. He smoothly stated that he was short of funds and had to get away and asked the landlord to pay him the difference above the board bill and collect the money at the bank. Mr. Wilkinson did not doubt his boarder's honesty and as the fellow had a sample case and credentials from Coates & Co., he acceded to the request.

It developed that the draft was not accepted by Coates & Co. The firm wrote a letter to Mr. Wilkinson, stating that J. L. McQuaid had once been in their employ, but was not when the draft was sent.

In another letter sent shortly after they stated that McQuaid's wife had some small interest in the firm at Alliance.

The letter was enclosed by Mr. Wilkinson in one written to McQuaid's wife at Fowlersville, Mich.

Soon an answer was received from Albert Dodge, an attorney and an uncle of the woman, stating that there must be a mistake, as Mrs. McQuaid had no interest in the business of Coates & Co. He kindly asked more information of McQuaid.

Here is where the hotel-keeper got in some detective work. He suspicioned wife No. 2, and communicated the fact to Mr. Dodge, who telegraphed him at once to locate McQuaid at all hazards.

This he soon did at Greensboro, Pa. Correspondence with the sheriff there elicited the information that McQuaid has a wife and one child living down there.

Mr. Wilkinson worked his case fine and yesterday received a letter from Mr. Dodge reading as follows:

"Received a telegram from Greensboro, Pa., instructing me to get requisition papers for James L. McQuaid as our deputy sheriff has him safe."

The prisoner will be brought through this city shortly on his way to Fowlersville where he will meet wife No. 1 and have the sentence passed upon him that will send him to the penitentiary for bigamy.

McQuaid is well-known among the hardware dealers of the city and has operated here for weeks at a time.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—For Indiana: Slightly warmer; southerly winds; local rains.

ASSAULTED BY TRAMPS.

James Hennessy, a Plumber, Gets Into a Very Bad Crowd.

James Hennessy was before Mayor Harding this morning, on a plain charge of intoxication. He was arrested by Officer Limecocly, who responded to a telephone message to the effect that a bloody fight occurred and that "one man was badly cut." When he arrived on the scene he found Hennessy bleeding from several wounds in the head, and also suffering from a burden of whisky. The man was very drunk.

The prisoner said to a SENTINEL reporter that he was a plumber by trade and that he came from Columbus, Ohio. He got several drinks ahead, in which condition he wandered out Main street to Nebraska, where he was attacked by several tramps who demanded money of him. He could not comply with their request, because his finances had gone to purchase his "jag."

They then drew knives and had it not been for interference, Mr. Hennessy would probably not be able to tell his tale so blithely as he did this morning. He was sent to jail where his wounds will be cared for.

A LION TAMER'S LUCK.

Joe, the Boot-black, Decreed a Divorce by Judge O'Rourke.

This morning the stillness of the circuit court room was disturbed by the calling up of the famous divorce case in which Joe Griffiths, alias Joe White, alias Joe, the Lion Tamer, alias Joe, the Bootblack, was plaintiff.

A large and fashionable audience was present. The defendant was not present, and the Attorney A. H. Bittinger opened his client's case at once. It was shown in the complaint that Joe was inveigled into matrimony by a heartless female, the consideration being that he got some valuables of hers out of pawn. Poor Joe mortgaged a lot in Abbott's addition in order to raise the money with which to accomplish such ends. So he won his bride.

It is alleged in the complaint that the plaintiff was dogged around by his spouse and that they did not live happily. Cruelty and abandonment are the principal charges sifted down.

Judge O'Rourke without hesitancy granted the plaintiff the legal separation.

There was a rush on the part of the spectators to shake hands and congratulate the lucky lion tamer.

Joe is celebrating and it may be sometime before he can ply his usual avocation as he has another prospective bride on the string.

ALMOST ASSURED.

Superintendent Stevens Likely to Become Manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio.

J. T. Harahan, general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, whose resignation was announced in yesterday's SENTINEL, will retire from the service of the company on the 10th inst.

It is Mr. Harahan's intention to go to Florida and spend a couple of months on his farm before again entering railway service.

Upon the retirement of Mr. Harahan the office of general manager will be abolished and Gen. Supt. G. W. Stevens will very likely have his duties extended. While no official statement has been made, it is very likely that the general superintendent will have his headquarters in Cincinnati.

Such an elevation as stated in THE SENTINEL yesterday is predicted in railroad circles. If it comes true a further prediction can be made that some of our local Wabash employes will be handsomely remembered by Mr. Stevens.

A MYSTERIOUS TRIP.

President Herrick and Trustees of the M. E. College Leave for Indianapolis.

This afternoon J. W. Hayden, Rev. A. E. Mahin, and President H. N. Herrick, of the Fort Wayne M. E. college, took the train for Indianapolis.

Mr. Hayden, president of the board of trustees, was detained a few moments by a SENTINEL reporter at the depot and the question as to the purpose of the trip was put.

"Our visit to Indianapolis is of a significant nature and is of the utmost importance to the affairs of the college."

"Is it in relation to a loan talked of some months ago?" asked the reporter.

"Oh no; not that at all. If our object is accomplished the papers will hear of it soon enough;" and with that Mr. Hayden swung onto the platform of the departing train.

TUESDAY, FEB. 4, 1890.

THE weather remains spring-like.

REED'S rulings continue to keep congress in an uproar.

REVIVALS are in progress in several of the city churches.

WE were treated to a thunder shower in midwinter last night.

THE streets of the city remain in a horribly muddy condition.

THE oldest resident says we have never had such an open and mild winter as this.

THERE is still a large amount of sickness in the city. La grippe has not lost his hold altogether.

SADNESS hangs over the homes of two of the members of President Harrison's cabinet—Tracy and Blaine.

THE Smith-Jackson contested election case from Virginia was decided in the house yesterday and the republican member, Smith, was seated. It was not a question of right, but of might, and as the republicans had a majority the outrage was accomplished.

THERE is every reason to believe that the sale of four Toledo breweries to the English brewery syndicate is an accomplished fact. The breweries are: Grasser & Brand's, Lenk's, Buckeye, and the Findlay. The money for the first payment has been deposited in bank and the papers have been forwarded to London. These sales embrace the entire plant, not merely a controlling interest, and the price, while not yet definitely announced, is understood to be over $3,000,000.

THE best material to be used in the paving of the streets of this city is just now a question of considerable interest to a large number of property holders. THE SENTINEL is asked every day to publish communications setting forth the merits of fire brick, asphalt and other material. Each has its advocates and each has those who are pushing the merits of their respective pavements, but we prefer not to boom anybody's pavement and this is the reason we have refused to print free communications on the subject.

THE fifteenth annual report of the board of trustees of Purdue university for the year ending June 30, 1889, was filed with the governor Saturday. It is made up almost altogether of the report of James H. Smart, president of the university. The whole number of students in attendance during the year was 439, an increase of seventy-one over the preceding year. The growth of the institution from the year of its establishment—1875—has been rapid. In that year the attendance was sixty-four. Seventy Indiana counties were represented by the students during the past year, along with those from seventeen states and two foreign countries, Japan and Spain.

THE supreme court of the United States yesterday rendered an opinion affirming the constitutionality of the Edmunds-Tucker Idaho test oath, intended to prevent Mormons from voting. The case came upon an application for a writ of habeas corpus, made by Samuel B. Davis, who is in jail in Idaho, having been sentenced for unlawfully taking the prescribed test oath when he was a member of the Mormon church. The court denies the application for a writ of habeas corpus, holding that polygamy is a crime, and that the constitutional provision guaranteeing freedom of religion is not intended to prevent punishment of any person who, in the name of religion commits a crime in the eyes of the law.

THE value of THE SENTINEL'S telegraph service was forcibly illustrated yesterday in the publication of the particulars of the Tracy fire at Washington. Bulletins of the horror were posted by us on the board at the entrance to the office and they were eargerly read by thousands, but when our paper went to press at 3 o'clock our readers were furnished with a magnificent three-column account of the holocaust, as given by the United Press. THE SENTINEL has a special wire running into this office. Here our own operator sits at his instrument and takes the news as it is flashed every day over the wires from every quarter of the globe. This is a great feature and we are glad to know that our readers appreciate it. No family should be content without THE SENTINEL.

THE sorrow which came to the home of Secretary of Navy Tracy at Washington yesterday, the dreadful particulars of which were told in our telegraph columns last evening, calls for the sympathy of the nation, and it will be given to the heart-broken man. With the dawning of the day death came to two of the loved members of his family—his devoted wife and his daughter. It was a blow which would have crushed the heart of the strongest of men, and it fell upon him when he was lying almost at death's door himself. The news of the death of the darlings of his heart was told to him gently by President Harrison, and our dispatches say he swooned away as he heard it. It is hard enough to loose dear ones, but when death come as it did in this instance it is doubly crushing and doubly sad.

The indifferent success of agricultural departments of alleged agricultural colleges is one of the notable things in the educational field. Fifteen years ago Purdue university was establisned as an agricultural school. It has become a state institution of several departments, all successful except the agricultural. The annual report of the institution now on file with the governor, recognizes this condition and laments so few pupils enter the school of agriculture. President Smart denies that the lack of agricultural students s due to neglect or apathy on the part of the management, and attributes it to the supposed fact that farmers themselves are not yet alive to the necessity for educating their sons liberally. The total attendance at Purdue has grown to 439.

Here is a short sermon by a woman, though not preached from a pulpit. It is a good one, and is pretty sure to hit your own case somewhere, whatever may be your age and circumstances: "The best thing to give to your enemy is forgivenness; to an opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart; to your child, a good example; to your father, deference; to your mother, conduct that will make her proud of you; to yourself, respect; to all men, charity.

Superintendent Blake, of the institute for feeble minded children, at Richmond, informed a reporter that on last Saturday seventy of the children and seventeen of the employes were ill with the grippe. The asylum resembled a hospital, on a large scale, but this morning a large proportion of the sufferers were in a state of convalescence. Only one death occurred, and that was a child whose disease was complicated with epilepsy. Superintendent Blake thinks the asylum at Fort Wayne will be ready for occupancy the first of June.

Plain Directions so that anyone can Hasten Death and make Catching Grave Diseases an Easy Thing.

The somewhat vulgar but sensible old saying, "Never be in a hurry unless you're catching fleas," might well be borne in mind by some people. They profess the most unbounded love for life, and yet are in the biggest kind of a hurry to welcome Death and Disease to their arms. Like the boy rabbit-hunting, they go miles out of their way, and set all kinds of traps to catch Pneumonia, Typhoid Fever, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Consumption, etc.

Most people know that a strongly beating heart, healthy bounding pulse, perfect digestion, clean skin with open pores, regularly moving bowels, and constantly acting kidneys are the best safeguards against disease and death. And yet how many are daily neglecting these very things; and, when struck down, wonder why they are sick, but their neighbor isn't.

Their neighbor probably had good sense, on the first warning of closed pores, Indigestion, Consumption, Palpitation, etc., to commence using Rogers' Royal Nervine, and so escaped much suffering.

To "keep well" is away ahead of to "get well," and Rogers' Royal Nervine is the very thing that Nature and the Almighty have blessed us with to best do it. It is a great tonic, nervine, anti-paralytic and anti-dyspeptic. Price, $1.00.

BIG GUNS COMING.

To-morrow afternoon there will be a meeting of the Brotherhood of the Locomotive Engineers and Firemen in this city, at which Grand Master Sargent and Secretary and Treasurer Debbs, of the Firemen, will deliver speeches. Messrs. Sargent and Debbs have been traveling through the states and their tour will last some time. They are national officers.

MORTALITY among colored people in the South is between 3 and 4 per cent higher than among the whites. It seems proved that colored people, as a class, in all our large cities almost totally disregard every rule of hygiene concerning pure air, pure water, and wholesome food.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. THE TRUE WAY TO BRING UP BOYS

"Yes, sir, I believe in thrashing a boy," he was saying in a loud voice to a Cass-ave. carful of passengers; "the more you thrash a boy the better it is for the boy."

"I think, sir," remarked a meek-looking man next to him, "that your language is very intemperate."

"What do you object to, may I ask? Is it the word thrash? You wouldn't have me say 'beat' would you? Perhaps flog would suit you better."

"I cannot see the necessity of flogging boys, sir."

"What would you do with them, may I ask?"

"Reason with them. Talk to them in mild and encouraging tones. Remember that you were once a boy yourself,"

"I do, sir; and I am thankful every day of my life for the personal chastisements my good father bestowed on me."

"Cruel, cruel," murmured the meek man. "It is degrading to a boy to be whipped like a brute beast. No boy requires it. He can always be managed with kindness."

Every woman in the car looked curiously at the meek man, and the advocate of thrashing had a temporary chill. Then he leaned forward and inquired of the other:

"Can you manage your boys without corporal punishment?"

"I haven't any boys," was the serene answer, and everybody laughed.

RUINED BY A CIPHER.

A Train Dispatcher's Life Wrecked by a Moment of Forgetfulness--Busy Center Flashes.

"There goes a man whose life was ruined by forgetting the simple character 0," said a prominent railroad man to a San Francisco Examiner reporter, pointing to a ragged, besotted man shambling along the street, unmindful of the rain.

He was a train dispatcher on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad once, having worked up to that position from messenger boy in the telegraph office. One Sunday he had only two trains on his division, an express train westward bound and a fast stock train running east. The day was warm and sultry and Bill, for that was his name, had hard work to keep awake. He knew that as soon as he made the meeting point for the two trains he could doze, and he impatiently awaited the time. When the trains were close enough together for him to figure a meeting point he sent an order to the passenger train to meet and pass the stock train at a little station called Willow Valley, fixing the time at 12:50. To the stock train he sent an order that it could have until 1:25 to make Willow Valley for the passenger. See the mistake. He forgot the 0, and hence gave the stock train thirty-five minutes more than he should. Bill saw his mistake ten minutes after he had made it, but there being no telegraph station between the points where the trains were given the orders or at the meeting point he could do nothing to rectify it. He sent for the superintendent and ordered out the wrecking crew, then sat at the key pale as death, the cold perspiration running down his face in streams, awaiting news of the collision.

It came. The passenger train reached Willow Valley on time, waited the required thirty minutes under the time-card rules for the freight train and then pulled out. Three minutes later the two trains met on a curve, both running at a high rate of speed. Fourteen lives were lost in the collision, besides $100,000 worth of property destroyed. Bill resigned at once, and the next day disappeared. For a long time it was thought he had committed suicide, but I met him on the street here one day just as you see him—a total wreck."

DESERVED PROMOTIONS.

THE SENTINEL announced a few days ago the promotion of F. W. Dunham to the position of superintendent of the Olds wheel works. The place made vacant by his promotion was the foremanship of the lathe and spoke department of the works. This has just been filled by the elevation to it of Bert Olds, for some time past the shipping clerk of the establishment.

Mr. Olds is in every way fitted for the position. He commenced work in the factory as an apprentice and is thoroughly familiar with the department over which he has been given the foremanship, having served in it as a workman for several years. He is a young man of good mechanical talents and pleasant ways and will prove a popular foreman.

The position of shipping clerk made vacant by his promotion has been filled by the appointment of H. A. Frary, for some time foreman of the warehouse department. Mr. Frary is pleasant and capable and will fill his new position in a creditable manner. His host of friends will be glad to hear of his deserved promotion. William Winike takes the place made vacant by Mr. Frary's promotion. He is a deserving young man and will give satisfaction to his employers.

TIE FLASHES.

Superintendent Wilder, of the Olds works, is at Chicago to-day.

Passenger Agent R. G. Thompson was at Huntington yesterday.

Foreman R. H. Harrison, of the Pittsburg shops, remains quite ill.

Chas. S. Knight, of the electric works, went to Dayton, Ohio, this morning.

Thomas Hurley, of Valparaiso, has taken a position at the Kerr Murray works.

William Lonegran, of the Kerr Murray works, is off duty on account of an injured hand.

About $300,000 will be expended during the present year on the Pennsylvania southwestern system for bridges.

Foreman Robt. Cunningham, of the Star Iron Tower company, is at Allegheny City, Pa., superintending work for his firm.

Superintendent of Bridges and Buildings Dunlap, of the Wabash, was in the city yesterday. He is the successor of J. B. Mitchell and took his new position last Saturday.

R. H. Frisinger, station agent for the Chicago and Atlantic Railway company, at Bobo, attempted suicide on Saturday night by shooting himself through the bowels, while temporarily insane.

Owen Barry, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shops, tells us that Ed. Deegan, who returned to work this morning, fell through the hatchway at his barn the other day and injured himself. He also tells us that Ed's Jersey cow has a calf. These two items may or may not fit together, but we give them just as Mr. Barry told us.

Tim Fetters, the brakeman injured at Huntington on the Wabash some time ago, died at the company's hospital at Peru Sunday from injuries received. He was twenty-seven years old and unmarried.

The Northern Pacific has contracted with the Baldwin locomotive works for seventy-five engines. Work has been commenced on the order. The company has also recently contracted with Pullman for a large number of cars.

The Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago is building a new freight yard at Conway, twenty-three miles west of Pittsburg, which will be the finest in the United States. It will have over fifteen miles of track within its limits.

One of the sections of a bill prepared by the Federation of Railway Men to be presented to the different state legislatures calls for the employment of one brakeman for each ten freight cars while en route. Another section of the bill reads as follows: "The regular day for train service and for persons employed for such purposes shall be eight hours out of every twenty-four, and no man shall be required or compelled to work for more hours within each twenty-four hours." The 100,000 members of the federation in support of this measure assert that railroad accidents occur more frequently because train men are overworked than from any other cause.

The railroad Gazette in its last issue publishes the number of railroad accidents reported in this country for 1889, and gives, as far as known, the cause. The record shows that during the year 492 persons were killed in accidents, and of the number 108 were passengers. Notwithstanding the seemingly numerous accidents of 1889, there were sixty fewer passengers killed than in 1888, and but 336 employes were killed in these accidents, against 434 in similar accidents in 1888. During the year 104 accidents were the result of failure to give or observe proper signals, or a mistake as regards orders. Of course, accidents of this class are inexcusable in these times, when the appliances for the safe moving of trains are so well perfected.

ONE ON SENATOR INGALLS.

With profound regret we learn that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has resolved so far to withdraw his patronage and sanction from English literature as to permit nobody to use his name in a soap advertisement. By the way this reminds us of something that once happened to Senator Ingalls. Mr. David Lewsley, who was at that time a reporter for a Washington journal, was sent to hold an interview with the Senator, upon an important matter of State. The Senator, who had no intention whatever of being drawn into conversation on that subject, met Mr. Lewsley with his accustomed grace and courteously veered the conversation into other channels. Somehow, for want of another handy subject, the Senator said something about beards, which led to barbers, and of course to the general subject of shaving.

"By all means," said Senator Ingalls, "you should learn to shave yourself," and then he went on with a learned, thoughtful, and highly entertaining disquisition on the advantages, economic and metaphysic, of shaving oneself rather than hiring a barber to do it. Mr. Lewsley paid careful attention to all the Senator said, fixed facts and dates in his mind, and said nothing. When the Senator had related circumstantially his own varied experiences with razors and brushes and soaps, recommending this make of blade and that brand of lather to Mr. Lewsley's use, the reporter, convinced that he could not learn what he had come to learn, arose to go. There was, or the reporter imagined there was, a sort of merry twinkle in Senator Ingall's eye as he politely bowed his caller from the room—a twinkle which seemed to say: "I have made the young man really forget what he came for."

The next morning Senator Ingalls was more or less horrified at finding in the local newspaper a true report of all he had said, including the earnest recommendation of a certain shaving soap, which he unqualifiedly pronounced to be the very best that could be had. But the reporter's vengeance was not yet satisfied. He marked the article and sent it to the manufacturer of the recommended soap. In a fortnight the newspapers, the periodicals, and all the many means employed by advertisers were brought into use, and Senator Ingalls' eloquent eulogy of that soap was printed in every form that could be devised to attract popular attention. And the worst of it was, the Senator could not deny that very expressions, earnest and glowing as they were, were all his own.—Washington Post.

AN OLD MAN JAILED.

One Jacobs Avenges Himself on the Man Who Swore Against Him.

Yesterday morning one Jacobs, who is employed by Ryan's transfer company, was fined by Mayor Harding for kicking in a door of William Payton's house on St. Mary's avenue.

A dance was in progress at the time and the owner, to protect his premises, used a club.

Jacobs paid his fine, and to avenge himself filed an affidavit against Payton yesterday afternoon for assault and battery, and the mayor assessed a fine which the old man was unable to pay.

Leaning upon the arm of an officer he was taken to jail, where he will serve thirteen days.

FRUIT HOUSE PRICES FOR 1890.

This year opens favorable for the people, so far as the Sugar Market is concerned. Last season the great sugar trust had their grip on the market and made it ruinous to the purchaser—so much so that Sugars were advanced in 60 days at least 50 per cent. This is now over—the Sugar Trust is broken and Sugars have declined to a point lower than they ever were—the last reduction is 1 cent per lb.

We now offer Best Extra C., 5c. Best Standard A., 6¼c.
Powdered and Crushed, 7c. Granulated and Cut Loaf, 7c.

COFFEE, COFFEE—Rio, Java and Roasted Coffee.

There has been little change in the Coffee Market the last three months. It is too high yet. The clique has control of the market and keeps prices up. We still sell our best Rio at 20c. lb. This we are enabled to de in consequence of our large purchases and selling direct to our customers—in this way saving the profit of the jobber and wholesale merchant.

TEAS, TEAS—Young Hyson, Oolong and Japan.

The high price of Coffee has induced a great many to try Tea—and when it is considered that a pound of Tea can be had for the price of a pound of Coffee and that it will go twice as far, it is not to be wondered at that there is a great increase in our Tea Trade. The truth is we sell double the quantity we used to a few years ago. Our motto is selling large quantities at a small profit, for we purchase direct of the Importers and then in selling direct to our customers we save three profits—the speculator, jobber and the wholesale dealer. We sell a good, rich drawing Tea at 20c. lb., and one grade as low as 10c. lb.

MRS. MORTON'S REMOVAL.

A Fashionable Dressmaking Establishment Takes Up New Quarters.

To-day Mrs. Louise Morton vacated her quarters at 128 Calhoun street, and removed her business to 95 East Jefferson street. The location is between Barr and Lafayette street, the fourth house west of Lafayette street, and is as desirable as could be found. The street cars run within a few doors of the place.

It is Mrs. Morton's intention to conduct business on as large a scale as ever. She has in the past attracted much of the best custom of Fort Wayne, the secret of which is her keen conception of fitting and draping to suit all tastes. The most fastidious leave her establishment always with a feeling of satisfaction.

The ladies tailoring system of cutting and fitting garments, one which she has adopted, is a most popular one among the ladies who have their dresses made, a consistent fact too, when it is considered what graceful curves and stylish settings are the results of its use.

Mrs. Morton has surrounded herself with a corps of assistants who know their business to perfection, another big point in favor, as it is indeed an important requirement in fine lines of dressmaking to have hands who have the work down to the perfection of art.

She will also have on hand a full line of furnishings and trimmings of which it is every lady's delight to inspect and select from.

That the new departure of Mrs. Morton will prove pleasant and successful can hardly be questioned, because her trade has been constantly growing greater, at present having exceeded her most sanguine expectations. Congratulations over her prosperity are in order.

To-day we were shown a horseshoe made by D. Nestel, one of the earliest blacksmiths of this city. Invitation to the Show-Going Public.

Manager Geary invites any gentleman to call at his office, World's Museum, and inspect his scrap books, showing conclusively that he has and will cater to the respectable classes. Other money he don't want.

Columbus Capital, Sunday, Sept. 23: "No place of amusement affords more pleasure to the ladies and children than the World's Museum. This amusement resort is visited by ladies and children unaccompanied by an escort, and being conducted in such an orderly manner, they receive courteous treatment and are entertained and pleased."

Columbus Herald, Sunday, Sept. 30: "A most novel entertainment and exhibition is going on at the World's Museum this week. Nothing more or less than a baby show. Everyone knows what this implies. If the exhibition be a success—and is it necessary to question the success of any enterprise of which Manager Geary has charge—it is certainly surprising to see the number of ladies and children going to the World's Museum unaccompanied. It speaks volumes for the management."

Pittsburg Press, Sept. 10, 1888: "Booth and Barrett rush fades into insignificance beside it. Such was the remarks made while gazing at the crowds surging into the World's last night. The majority of them women and children. Manager Geary is certainly the right man in the right place. No man need be afraid to send his wife or child to the museum as it is conducted strictly first-class."

Next Monday is the opening day for the World's here in Fort Wayne. 3-3t

"He who makes two blades of grass grow, where but one grew before, is a public benefactor."

Akin to such an accomplishment is the work of the merchant, who by reduced expenses, ampler resources, and better business methods, accomplishes the task of placing upon the market the necessaries of life, at a reduced percentage of profit.

This is the task to which we have addressed ourselves, and which we are successfully working out. We occupy Fort Wayne, LaFayette and Terre Haute, three of the chief cities of the state.

We have discovered that the man who retails one million dollars' worth of Furniture and Carpets yearly, can buy his goods 10 per cent. less than one who sells $30,000 worth, and we have also discovered that such an enormous business is profitable, if only this 10 per cent. that is saved is the amount of profit made. In other words, the company that retails one million can sell at what the goods cost the man who sells $30,000, and yet make a gross profit of one hundred thousand dollars annually.

In saying this we have said nothing that you did not know before, but perhaps we have impressed upon your mind the fact that when you want

SORROW AT THE CAPITAL.

The Tracy Fire Horror the Theme of Conversation at Washington--Investigating the Origin.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4,—Secretary Tracy appears to be considerably improved this morning and rapidly recovering from the effects of suffocation. As the effects of opiates wear off he begins to realize more firmly the loss of his wife and daughter. The reaction from opiates administered yesterday naturally leaves him physically weaker.

His son Frank reached Washington at 1 o'clock this morning and remained at the executive mansion during the night. This morning he went to the house of Bancroft Davis and joined General Catlin, Mrs. Tracy's brother, and a few friends, who remained with his father.

President Harrison will possibly join them there after the funeral of Mrs. Coppinger, which he is now attending, and arrange for removing the secretary to the executive mansion. The arrangements for the funeral of Mrs. Tracy and her daughter will be decided upon at the same time. The latest reports from the others who were injured at the fire, state that they are getting along very nicely.

There are various theories as to the cause of yesterday's conflagration. Baffled at every other turn, many minds naturally turn to incendarism and have plenty of clews to support such a theory. The suddenness with which the fire broke out in all parts of the house and the apparent stupor of some of the inmates seem to demonstate that incendiarism had followed an attempted, if not successful, robbery. A large sum of money was found in the back yard, about $600, and it is argued that persons in danger of their lives, as were secretary and Mrs. Tracy, would never think of throwing the money out of the window. Every theory which has thus far been advanced will be carefully investigated.

The commissioners have directed Building Inspector Entwisle to make a thorough examination of the heating apparatus of the house, and he will be assisted by Chief of Police Harris. One of the principal architects in Washington has examined the destroyed house. He says that the heat used was steam; that the main steam pipe rose through the house was confined in a wooden well. In his opinion, this wood had thoroughly dried during the past two months, and finally, reaching the ignition point yesterday morning, suddenly went off like tinder.

Bridget Sweeney, the laundress, was not in the house when the fire was discovered. She left it a few minutes previously to attend church and according to her story there was no evidence of fire when she departed.

The effects of the awful tragedy are widespread in society. The carrying of the bodies of the two dead ladies to the white house, and their burial from there virtually ends the official hospitalities of the season. Were it otherwise the president and Mrs. Harrison, in the face of the successive calamities in the cabinet household, could not feel able to go on with any works of a public social character. As soon as the deaths of Mrs. and Miss Tracy were known yesterday, nearly all the prominent families who had cards out for parties that would occur this week, sent private and public messages to withdraw them.

The funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy will take place from the president's mansion at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. The services will occur in the east room. Their remains will be placed temporarily in vaults in Rock Creek cemetery. The complete arrangements for the funeral will not be perfected until late this afternoon.

Secretary Tracy was removed to the white house at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

The Members Vote Not to Seat Goff by 40 to 43.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 4.—The investigating committee on Harris charges reported to day exonorating Goff and Fleming from any attempt to corrupt any member of the legislature, but that there was sufficient evidence to cause a suspicion against Stollinger.

A vote was then taken on Judge Maxwell's resolution to seat Goff, resulting, yeas 40, nays 43. It was a strict party vote, President Carr voting with the democrats. A vote was then taken on Chairman Keeye's resolution to seat Fleming, resulting, yeas 43, nays 40, Carr again voting with the democrats.

Five Hundred Miners Strike.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Feb. 4.—All the miners and day hands, some five hundred in number, employed in the mines of Cabel & Co., quit work yesterday on account of a difficulty between the bank boss of Maple Valley mine and some miners. Meetings are being held, however, and it is thought certain that the existing differences will be amicably adjusted and that the men will return to work at once.

WANT THEIR INDEPENDENCE.

Young Men of Toronto Look Forward to Canada's Freedom From Great Britain's Power.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 4.—The young mens' liberal club passed the following resolutions last night by a unanimous vote:

WHEREAS, The house of commons has adopted an address to her majesty, the queen, setting forth, among other things, that the Canadian people desire to perpetuate the political connection now existing between this country and the motherland.

Resolved, That the members of this club, while having a sincere admiration and regard for British constitutional government, and a deep and abiding attachment for our kin across the sea, earnestly desire and confidently look forward to the establishment in our land of a nationality independent of Great Britain and free from all European complications, and we are of the opinion that our parliamentary representatives would act more in harmony with the wishes of their constituents if, instead of presenting addresses of a reactionary character, declaring their attachment to British connection, they would endeavor to secure for the Canadian people a larger degree of self-government and thus prepare the way for the complete independence of Canada.

DINED IN STYLE.

Twenty-one Tramps Take Meals at a Decatur Restaurant and Pay Ten Cents for the Whole Feast.

DECATUR, Ind., Jan. 4.—Twenty-one tramps met in this city Sunday, ordered meals at a restaurant, and after they had eaten, compelled the proprietor to accept ten cents as payment in full. They then made their way beyond the city limits and camped.

Yesterday a posse from Willshire, O., a town about ten miles east of here, came in quest of persons who had Saturday night burglarized several stores at that place. Among those in the posse were John Zaman, a clothing merchant who had several suits of clothes stolen, and a hardware merchant, who had been robbed of about twenty-five revolvers and a lot of cartridges.

On visiting the camp, Zaman observed that his missing clothing was worn by several of the tramps. On attempting to arrest them they produced the stolen revolvers and defied the police. Finally three of those wearing stolen clothes were captured. No one was injured in the fight excepting Policeman Smith, who received a slight wound on the head. Eighteen of the tramps escaped.

SHOT AND KILLED.

Mark M. Herr Murdered on the Pacific Coast--A Texas Tragedy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 4.—Mark M. Herr, formerly assistant sergeant-at-arms of the United States house of representatives, was shot and killed here last night by Jack Naughton, a man whom he had befriended for years. Naughton had been acting as an agent for one of the shady insurance schemes of this city and the fatal quarrel occurred over Naughton's acts in appropriating some of their funds. Herr was well-known on the coast and in Washington. He was a son-in-law of Surveyor General John A. Benson and had strong political backing during the Cleveland administration.

COLMESNIL, Texas, Feb. 4.—Captain W. J. Calvin, of the Ross light infantry, was shot dead here last night by J. W. Ashburner, a constable. Calvin was unarmed and there is said to have been no provocation for the shooting. Ashburner fled and is still at large.

LAW RULES OUR NATION!

The One Hundredth Anniversary of the Organization of the Supreme Court Celebrated at New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The exercises attendant upon the centennary celebration of the organization of the supreme court of the United States took place in this city to-day. At 10 o'clock the procession, headed by the judges of the supreme court, members of the United States in full official robes, followed by the representatives of the federal district court of New York, court of appeals, the supreme, superior, common, and other courts, marched down the various aisles of the opera house, and assumed the various seats and boxes allotted to them.

The members of the supreme court of the United States occupied seats on the stage with ex-President Grover Cleveland and many legal dignataries. When at 10:30, Mr. Cleveland took his place as president of the assemblage, there was loud and prolonged cheering and he delivered the speech of welcome.

When Mr. Cleveland, who had been enthusiastically received throughout, had finished speaking the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix offered prayer.

Judge Wm. H. Arnoux followed with an address of "Welcome to the Court."

The next speaker was Mr. Wm. Allen Butler.

The Hon. Henry Hitchcock, of Missouri, followed in an able discourse on "The Supreme Court and the Constitution," which elicited much applause. "Personal Characters of the Chief Justices" was the subject handled by Mr. Thomas J. Semmes, of Louisianna. Edward J. Phelps, of Vermont, next read a paper entitled "The Supreme Court and the Sovereignty of the People." Mr. Justice Field then, amid much applause and in his usual eloquent manner, responded for the court.

Justice Field, after a tribute to the bar of the state of New York, recalled with pleasure his connection with it prior to his departure for the Pacific coast in 1849. In every age and with every people, he said, there have been celebrations of triumphs in war and of triumphs in peace, but never has there been, in any country, a celebration like this to commemorate the establishment of a judicial tribunal as a co-ordinate and permanent part of this government.

This celebration had its inspiration in the conviction that this tribunal has materially contributed to the just appreciation and ready obedience to the constitution of the United States. This constitution was essential to that dual government by which alone free institutions can be maintained in a country so widely extended as ours.

This constitution which has been productive of such vast results, was the outgrowth of institutions and doctrines inherited from our ancestors and applied under the new conditions of our country. The possibility of a dissolution of the union of states was never considered by its framers, and in all its provisions, as Justice Chase aptly remarked, "Looks to an indestructible union composed of indestructible states." Even the late civil war could not shake its stability. The judicial department, established under this constitution is co-extensive. It reaches to every judicial question which arises under the constitution, treaties and laws of the United States.

In some cases, the justice said, the court may have made mistakes. The judges would be more than human if this was not so. But they have striven to the utmost of their abilities to be right and perform functions to the advancement of justice and the good of the country.

As to the needs of the supreme court, Justice Field said, that it should not be burdened with work, and should have some relief from the immense burden cast upon it. Every suitor, however humble, should be given an opportunity to be heard.

Up to the middle of the present century the calendar of the court did not average 110 cases a term; the calendar of the present term exceeds 1,500. Something should be done to relieve the crowded docket, and that speedily. It becomes more and more the duty of the court to firmly enforce every guarantee of the constitution. "Sustained by professional and public confidence."

Justice Field concluded, "the supreme court may hope to still further strengthen the hearts of all in love, admiration and reverence for the constitution of the United States, not the least inheritance possessed by a free people."

Mr. Field, resuming his seat, and after a few selections by the band, the Rev. Talbot, of the Collegiate Reformed church, delivered the benediction and the immense audience dispered. Tonight the banquet will be held at the Lennox Lyceum.

CONGRESS.

Speaker Reed Continues to Count the Democrats as Voting.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—In the house this morning the democrats demanded the reading of the journal in full, and when it was completed Mr. Springer declared that a part had been omitted and demanded the reading of the omitted portion.

The speaker paid no attention to Mr. Springer, but recognized Mr. McKinley, who moved the approval of the journal and demanded the previous question, which was ordered 165 to none, all the members of the democratic side being entered in the journal as present and not voting.

CARLISLE'S STATEMENT.

An address to the country, explaining the position of the democratic members of the house, has been prepared by ex-Speaker Carlisle. It has been signed by all the democratic members of the house. It reviews the facts that led to the present situation in the house, and concludes as follows:

The claim of the majority that they have a right to govern the house without attending its sessions and taking part in the conduct of its business is too preposterous to require refutation. It must be evident to any one who understands the position taken by the democratic minority in the house that it cannot possibly result in any injury to the country, or any injustice to the majority. Its only effect will be to compel the republican majority, elected by the people, to assume the responsibility imposed upon them.

On the other hand, no [illegible] can foresee the evils that may result [illegible] in the inauguration of the practice of counting votes not cast in order to make a quorum. Under it a minority of the members-elect to the house and senate may pass the most tyrannical laws for the oppression of the people, the most corrupt laws for the spoliation of the public treasury. Whether so intended or not, its direct tendency is to break down the barriers heretofore existing for the protection of the citizen against the encroachments of power and the spoliation of the treasury by destroying the limitation which the constitution has wisely imposed upon the legislative department. Constitutions are made to restrain majorities and protect minorities. A majority ruling without limitations or restrains upon its power is a pure despotism, and is inconsistent with our system of government.

STRAY TELEGRAMS.

Little Ticks Bunched Together Under One Head.

COVINGTON, Ind., Feb. 4.—The February term of the circuit court convened here yesterday. Over fifty witnesses have been subpeoned to investigate the cases of thirty white caps, who took the Rev. Mr. Lindsey out of church a few months ago and compelled him to leave town.

It is believed several of the white caps will be identified. If any of them are convicted the lightest sentence that can be given is two years in the penitentiary.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The Times says that a syndicate of New York and Philadelphia capitalists, hostile to President Corbin, has succeeded in purchasing a controlling interest in the stock of the Reading Railroad company. Among the members of the syndicate are John Wanamaker, Thomas Dolan, Mayor Fitler, Messrs. Elkins and Widner, and a number of standard oil capitalists.

PEORIA, Feb. 4.—A freight train on the Ohio, Indiana and Western road, with twenty loaded cars, plunged into the Illinois river at seven o'clock last night. Engineer Mellville, Fireman O'Brien and Brakeman Lewis were buried in the water and drowned.

Sleeping Car Burned.

WABASH, Feb. 4.—Late Sunday night, when near Benton Harbor, the fine sleeping and chair car, St. Joseph, belonging to the Cincinnati, Wabash and Michigan road, was almost entirely destroyed by fire, which originated from the explosion of a lamp. The train was running forty miles an hour when the coach took fire.

Rev. Talmage Arrives in New York.

A GAY DECEIVER.

James Wilkinson Runs Down J. L. McQuaid, a Bigamist.

Through a peculiar chain of circumstances, and careful detective work, Mr. James Wilkinson, manager of the Diamond hotel, and ex-deputy United States marshal, has succeeded in having one J. L. McQuaid, a bigamist, placed behind the bars.

The case is a sensational one.

On the 8th of last December, there registered at the Diamond hotel, a rather handsome man, of dandy air, and a woman of pretty appearance and refined manners. The man registered as J. L. McQuaid and wife, Pittsburg, Pa.

It was plainly discernible that the couple were but newly bride and groom, and the latter went so far as to say that they had been married at Toledo, only a few days previous.

The couple stayed at the hotel until the following Wednesday, when Mr. McQuaid sent his wife to her parents at Fowlersville, Mich.

Mr. McQuaid then took Mr. Wilkinson aside and said confidentially that he was traveling for Coates & Co., hay rake manufacturers, Alliance, Ohio, and that he had drawn on his firm for $25, having sent the draft that morning. He smoothly stated that he was short of funds and had to get away and asked the landlord to pay him the difference above the board bill and collect the money at the bank. Mr. Wilkinson did not doubt his boarder's honesty and as the fellow had a sample case and credentials from Coates & Co., he acceded to the request.

It developed that the draft was not accepted by Coates & Co. The firm wrote a letter to Mr. Wilkinson, stating that J. L. McQuaid had once been in their employ, but was not when the draft was sent.

In another letter sent shortly after they stated that McQuaid's wife had some small interest in the firm at Alliance.

The letter was enclosed by Mr. Wilkinson in one written to McQuaid's wife at Fowlersville, Mich.

Soon an answer was received from Albert Dodge, an attorney and an uncle of the woman, stating that there must be a mistake, as Mrs. McQuaid had no interest in the business of Coates & Co. He kindly asked more information of McQuaid.

Here is where the hotel keeper got in some detective work. He suspicioned wife No. 2, and communicated the fact to Mr. Dodge, who telegraphed him at once to locate McQuaid at all hazards.

This he soon did at Greensboro, Pa. Correspondence with the sheriff there elicited the information that McQuaid has a wife and one child living down there.

Mr. Wilkinson worked his case fine and yesterday received a letter from Mr. Dodge reading as follows:

"Received a telegram from Greensboro, Pa., instructing me to get requisition papers for James L. McQuaid as our deputy sheriff has him safe."

The prisoner will be brought through this city shortly on his way to Fowlersville where he will meet wife No. 1 and have the sentence passed upon him that will send him to the penitentiary for bigamy.

McQuaid is well-known among the hardware dealers of the city and has operated here for weeks at a time.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—For Indiana: Slightly warmer; southerly winds; local rains.

ASSAULTED BY TRAMPS.

James Hennessy, a Plumber, Gets Into a Very Bad Crowd.

James Hennessy was before Mayor Harding this morning, on a plain charge of intoxication. He was arrested by Officer Limecocly, who responded to a telephone message to the effect that a bloody fight occurred and that "one man was badly cut." When he arrived on the scene he found Hennessy bleeding from several wounds in the head, and also suffering from a burden of whisky. The man was very drunk.

The prisoner said to a SENTINEL reporter that he was a plumber by trade and that he came from Columbus, Ohio. He got several drinks ahead, in which condition he wandered out Main street to Nebraska, where he was attacked by several tramps who demanded money of him. He could not comply with their request, because his finances had gone to purchase his "jag."

They then drew knives and had it not been for interference, Mr. Hennessy would probably not be able to tell his tale so blithely as he did this morning. He was sent to jail where his wounds will be cared for.

A LION TAMER'S LUCK.

Joe, the Boot-black, Decreed a Divorce by Judge O'Rourke.

This morning the stillness of the circuit court room was disturbed by the calling up of the famous divorce case in which Joe Griffiths, alias Joe White, alias Joe, the Lion Tamer, alias Joe, the Bootblack, was plaintiff.

A large and fashionable audience was present. The defendant was not present, and the Attorney A. H. Bittinger opened his client's case at once. It was shown in the complaint that Joe was inveigled into matrimony by a heartless female, the consideration being that he got some valuables of hers out of pawn. Poor Joe mortgaged a lot in Abbott's addition in order to raise the money with which to accomplish such ends. So he won his bride.

It is alleged in the complaint that the plaintiff was dogged around by his spouse and that they did not live happily. Cruelty and abandonment are the principal charges sifted down.

Judge O'Rourke without hesitancy granted the plaintiff the legal separation.

There was a rush on the part of the spectators to shake hands and congratulate the lucky lion tamer.

Joe is celebrating and it may be sometime before he can ply his usual avocation as he has another prospective bride on the string.

ALMOST ASSURED.

Superintendent Stevens Likely to Become Manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio.

J. T. Harahan, general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, whose resignation was announced in yesterday's SENTINEL, will retire from the service of the company on the 10th inst.

It is Mr. Harahan's intention to go to Florida and spend a couple of months on his farm before again entering railway service.

Upon the retirement of Mr. Harahan the office of general manager will be abolished and Gen. Supt. G. W. Stevens will very likely have his duties extended. While no official statement has been made, it is very likely that the general superintendent will have his headquarters in Cincinnati.

Such an elevation as stated in THE SENTINEL yesterday is predicted in railroad circles. If it comes true a further prediction can be made that some of our local Wabash employes will be handsomely remembered by Mr. Stevens.

A MYSTERIOUS TRIP.

President Herrick and Trustees of the M. E. College Leave for Indianapolis.

This afternoon J. W. Hayden, Rev. A. E. Mahin, and President H. N. Herrick, of the Fort Wayne M. E. college, took the train for Indianapolis.

Mr. Hayden, president of the board of trustees, was detained a few moments by a SENTINEL reporter at the depot and the question as to the purpose of the trip was put.

"Our visit to Indianapolis is of a significant nature and is of the utmost importance to the affairs of the college."

"Is it in relation to a loan talked of some months ago?" asked the reporter.

"Oh no; not that at all. If our object is accomplished the papers will hear of it soon enough;" and with that Mr. Hayden swung onto the platform of the departing train.

E. A. E. HACKETT, Editor and Proprietor.

TUESDAY, FEB. 4, 1890.

THE weather remains spring-like.

REED'S rulings continue to keep congress in an uproar.

REVIVALS are in progress in several of the city churches.

WE were treated to a thunder shower in midwinter last night.

THE streets of the city remain in a horribly muddy condition.

THE oldest resident says we have never had such an open and mild winter as this.

THERE is still a large amount of sickness in the city. La grippe has not lost his hold altogether.

SADNESS hangs over the homes of two of the members of President Harrison's cabinet—Tracy and Blaine.

THE Smith-Jackson contested election case from Virginia was decided in the house yesterday and the republican member, Smith, was seated. It was not a question of right, but of might, and as the republicans had a majority the outrage was accomplished.

THERE is every reason to believe that the sale of four Toledo breweries to the English brewery syndicate is an accomplished fact. The breweries are: Grasser & Brand's, Lenk's, Buckeye, and the Findlay. The money for the first payment has been deposited in bank and the papers have been forwarded to London. These sales embrace the entire plant, not merely a controlling interest, and the price, while not yet definitely announced, is understood to be over $3,000,000.

THE best material to be used in the paving of the streets of this city is just now a question of considerable interest to a large number of property holders. THE SENTINEL is asked every day to publish communications setting forth the merits of fire brick, asphalt and other material. Each has its advocates and each has those who are pushing the merits of their respective pavements, but we prefer not to boom anybody's pavement and this is the reason we have refused to print free communications on the subject.

THE fifteenth annual report of the board of trustees of Purdue university for the year ending June 30, 1889, was filed with the governor Saturday. It is made up almost altogether of the report of James H. Smart, president of the university. The whole number of students in attendance during the year was 439, an increase of seventy-one over the preceding year. The growth of the institution from the year of its establishment—1875—has been rapid. In that year the attendance was sixty-four. Seventy Indiana counties were represented by the students during the past year, along with those from seventeen states and two foreign countries, Japan and Spain.

THE supreme court of the United States yesterday rendered an opinion affirming the constitutionality of the Edmunds-Tucker Idaho test oath, intended to prevent Mormons from voting. The case came upon an application for a writ of habeas corpus, made by Samuel B. Davis, who is in jail in Idaho, having been sentenced for unlawfully taking the prescribed test oath when he was a member of the Mormon church. The court denies the application for a writ of habeas corpus, holding that polygamy is a crime, and that the constitutional provision guaranteeing freedom of religion is not intended to prevent punishment of any person who, in the name of religion commits a crime in the eyes of the law.

THE value of THE SENTINEL'S telegraph service was forcibly illustrated yesterday in the publication of the particulars of the Tracy fire at Washington. Bulletins of the horror were posted by us on the board at the entrance to the office and they were eargerly read by thousands, but when our paper went to press at 3 o'clock our readers were furnished with a magnificent three-column account of the holocaust, as given by the United Press. THE SENTINEL has a special wire running into this office. Here our own operator sits at his instrument and takes the news as it is flashed every day over the wires from every quarter of the globe. This is a great feature and we are glad to know that our readers appreciate it. No family should be content without THE SENTINEL.

THE sorrow which came to the home of Secretary of Navy Tracy at Washington yesterday, the dreadful particulars of which were told in our telegraph colums last evening, calls for the sympathy of the nation, and it will be given to the heart-broken man. With the dawning of the day death came to two of the loved members of his family—his devoted wife and his daughter. It was a blow which would have crushed the heart of the strongest of men, and it fell upon him when he was lying almost at death's door himself. The news of the death of the darlings of his heart was told to him gently by President Harrison, and our dispatches say he swooned away as he heard it. It is hard enough to loose dear ones, but when death come as it did in this instance it is doubly crushing and doubly sad.

LOCAL LINES.

The Epworth league will hold a meeting to-night.

The Amateur Athletic association will entertain to-night.

Home lodge 342, F. and A. M., will hold a meeting to-night.

The discussion of street pavements continues to be a topic of great interest, and this interest will grow deeper as time wears on.

Mr. Theodore Thieme, the druggist, is now in New York or Boston. He went to Detroit for a couple of days, going thence east.

The rain storm at times last evening was fierce and drenching. These spells came suddenly, causing the unlucky ones who were out in the street to hustle for shelter.

The Van Wert Bulletin says: "H. W. Blachly was at Fort Wayne to-day on legal business. His wife, who has been visiting in that city for a few days returned home with him."

The meeting at Hoagland avenue Church of God is still growing in interest. The church, which has until now been a mission, will now be made permanent. There is a great need of work in this part of the city.

Charles Lawrence, of Columbia City, was instantly killed, last Saturday, while out hunting. He was standing on a log, but slipped and fell, both barrels were discharged, the contents entering his abdomen. He was unmarried.

Sherman Cole, the Pittsburg brakeman whose right hand was mashed between the bumpers at Lima a few days ago will probably have to lose the member. His mother arrived from Valparaiso to-day to be at his bedside. He lies at the St. Joe hospital.

The Huntington Democrat says: "Miss Flora Cutshall, of the Third ward, who is attending the Conservatory of Music at Fort Wayne, spent Sunday with home folks here.—Henry Geye and John Wichman, of Fort Wayne, spent Sunday here with friends."

The Port Townsend (Wash.) morning Leader, of the 26th ultimo., contains the text of an ordinance passed by that city granting to Messrs. John Lillie and T. J. Nolton, formerly of Fort Wayne, a franchise for the use of the streets and alleys of that city for the purpose of laying gas mains, through which to supply lighting or fuel gas.

The Huntington poultry show closes to-day. In addition to the prizes already mentioned, the following were bestowed: Silver Seabright bantams, Hans Newell, Fort Wayne, first and second on cock; first, second and third on hen; and first on pullet. American Dominiques, Hans Newell, Fort Wayne, fourth on cock; first on hen, and second on pullet.

The Lafayette Courier says: "Col. D. N. Foster, of Fort Wayne, who had been in the city the greater part of the week invoicing, returned home Saturday night. He states that his business in Lafayette has shown a very satisfactory increase during the past year, and proposes to do still better this year if elegant goods at reasonable prices will tend towards it."

The indifferent success of agricultural departments of alleged agricultural colleges is one of the notable things in the educational field. Fifteen years ago Purdue university was established as an agricultural school. It has become a state institution of several departments, all successful except the agricultural. The annual report of the institution now on file with the governor, recognizes this condition and laments so few pupils enter the school of agriculture. President Smart denies that the lack of agricultural students s due to neglect or apathy on the part of the management, and attributes it to the supposed fact that farmers themselves are not yet alive to the necessity for educating their sons liberally. The total attendance at Purdue has grown to 439.

Misses Nannie and Mattie, daughters of Engineer Sam Kelker and wife, of West Lewis street, have returned from a three weeks' visit with friends at Valparaiso.

Dr. L. T. Sturgis, the city health officer, reports fifty-seven deaths for January. One is credited to la grippe and four to pneumonia resulting from it. Consumption claimed six victims.

Messrs. Gus Rauh, George McCurdy and Otto Michaels went to Chicago last night. They will spend a couple of weeks there. They will be joined by George Sweringen and Earl Johnson to-night.

Mr. Charles D. Olds, of Denver, is in the city. Mr. Olds was formerly in the real estate and insurance business here. He is now of the Mercantile agency of Andrews & Olds, at Denver, and is doing very well. His visit will be brief.

Engineer John G. Bechtel, of the Pittsburg road, is lying dangerously ill at his home on West Washington street. He was operated on for tumor a few days ago and the hemorrhages have been frequent, the loss of blood causing much weakness.

State Fish Commissioner W. T. Dennis reported that 10,000 of a new species of white fish are being hatched at Rome City for the stocking of northern lakes. Colonel Dennis says the fish and game interests were never before so likely to be protected as at present.

The St. Charles benevolent society of the St. Mary's Catholic church met Sunday and organized a relief society, as follows: President, William Zahn; secretary, Louis Gans. The following committee was appointed to look after certain districts named: Fred Woenker, sr., John G. Kramer, H. J. App, Joseph Lobbe, Ed Ehrman, Mathias App, Jacob Baltes, Nicholas DeWald, Peter Hanrishferger, Valentine Offenloch and J. H. Kohlman.

The Huntington Hearald says: "Geo. Kibiger, a tailor who will be remembered as having resided here until about a year ago, died at Fort Wayne last Saturday. The funeral was held in that city to day and was attended by several from here among whom were C. Recklau, John Youngblood, Jacob Scheiblen, Fred Kuhlman, John Shingle, Fred Kritzinger and a number of ladies, including Mrs. Anna Seber."

Here is a short sermon by a woman, though not preached from a pulpit. It is a good one, and is pretty sure to hit your own case somewhere, whatever may be your age and circumstances: "The best thing to give to your enemy is forgiveness; to an opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart; to your child, a good example; to your father, deference; to your mother, conduct that will make her proud of you; to yourself, respect; to all men, charity.

Superintendent Blake, of the institute for feeble minded children, at Richmond, informed a reporter that on last Saturday seventy of the children and seventeen of the employes were ill with the grippe. The asylum resembled a hospital, on a large scale, but this morning a large proportion of the sufferers were in a state of convalescence. Only one death occurred, and that was a child whose disease was complicated with epilepsy. Superintendent Blake thinks the asylum at Fort Wayne will be ready for occupancy the first of June.

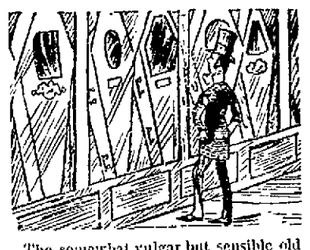
Plain Directions so that anyone can Hasten Death and make Catching Grave Diseases an Easy Thing.



The somewhat vulgar but sensible old saying, "Never be in a hurry unless you're catching fleas," might well be borne in mind by some people. They profess the most unbounded love for life, and yet are in the biggest kind of a hurry to welcome Death and Disease to their arms. Like the boy rabbit-hunting, they go miles out of their way, and set all kinds of traps to catch Pneumonia, Typhoid Fever, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Consumption, etc.

Most people know that a strongly beating heart, healthy bounding pulse, perfect digestion, clean skin with open pores, regularly moving bowels, and constantly acting kidneys are the best safeguards against disease and death. And yet how many are daily neglecting these very things; and, when struck down, wonder why they are sick, but their neighbor isn't.

Their neighbor probably had good sense, on the first warning of closed pores, Indigestion, Consumption, Palpitation, etc., to commence using Rogers' Royal Nervine, and so escaped much suffering.

To "keep well" is away ahead of to "get well," and Rogers' Royal Nervine is the very thing that Nature and the Almighty have blessed us with to best do it. It is a great tonic, nervine, anti-paralytic and anti-dyspeptic. Price, $1.00.

BIG GUNS COMING.

Grand Master and Grand Secretary of Locomotive Firemen Here To-morrow.

To-morrow afternoon there will be a meeting of the Brotherhood of the Locomotive Engineers and Firemen in this city, at which Grand Master Sargent and Secretary and Treasurer Debbs, of the Firemen, will deliver speeches. The meeting is federative in character and is held solely to create an harmonious unity between the orders, thereby helping each one individually in their movements.

Messrs. Sargent and Debbs have been traveling through the states and their tour will last some time. They are national officers.

MORTALITY among colored people in the South is between 3 and 4 per cent higher than among the whites. It seems proved that colored people, as a class, in all our large cities almost totally disregard every rule of hygiene concerning pure air, pure water, and wholesome food.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. THE TRUE WAY TO BRING UP BOYS

"Yes, sir, I believe in thrashing a boy," he was saying in a loud voice to a Cass-ave. carful of passengers; "the more you thrash a boy the better it is for the boy."

"I think, sir," remarked a meek-looking man next to him, "that your language is very intemperate."

"What do you object to, may I ask? Is it the word thrash? You wouldn't have me say 'beat' would you? Perhaps flog would suit you better."

"I cannot see the necessity of flogging boys, sir."

"What would you do with them, may I ask?"

"Reason with them. Talk to them in mild and encouraging tones. Remember that you were once a boy yourself,"

"I do, sir; and I am thankful every day of my life for the personal chastisements my good father bestowed on me."

"Cruel, cruel," murmured the meek man. "It is degrading to a boy to be whipped like a brute beast. No boy requires it. He can always be managed with kindness."

Every woman in the car looked curiously at the meek man, and the advocate of thrashing had a temporary chill. Then he leaned forward and inquired of the other:

"Can you manage your boys without corporal punishment?"

"I haven't any boys," was the serene answer, and everybody laughed.

RUINED BY A CIPHER.

A Train Dispatcher's Life Wrecked by a Moment of Forgetfulness—Busy Center Flashes.

"There goes a man whose life was ruined by forgetting the simple character 0," said a prominent railroad man to a San Francisco Examiner reporter, pointing to a ragged, besotted man shambling along the street, unmindful of the rain.

He was a train dispatcher on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad once, having worked up to that position from messenger boy in the telegraph office. One Sunday he had only two trains on his division, an express train westward bound and a fast stock train running east. The day was warm and sultry and Bill, for that was his name, had hard work to keep awake. He knew that as soon as he made the meeting point for the two trains he could doze, and he impatiently awaited the time. When the trains were close enough together for him to figure a meeting point he sent an order to the passenger train to meet and pass the stock train at a little station called Willow Valley, fixing the time at 12:50. To the stock train he sent an order that it could have until 1:25 to make Willow Valley for the passenger. See the mistake. He forgot the 0, and hence gave the stock train thirty-five minutes more than he should. Bill saw his mistake ten minutes after he had made it, but there being no telegraph station between the points where the trains were given the orders or at the meeting point he could do nothing to rectify it. He sent for the superintendent and ordered out the wrecking crew, then sat at the key pale as death, the cold perspiration running down his face in streams, awaiting news of the collision.

It came. The passenger train reached Willow Valley on time, waited the required thirty minutes under the time-card rules for the freight train and then pulled out. Three minutes later the two trains met on a curve, both running at a high rate of speed. Fourteen lives were lost in the collision, besides $100,000 worth of property destroyed. Bill resigned at once, and the next day disappeared. For a long time it was thought he had committed suicide, but I met him on the street here one day just as you see him—a total wreck."

DESERVED PROMOTIONS.

THE SENTINEL announced a few days ago the promotion of F. W. Dunham to the position of superintendent of the Olds wheel works. The place made vacant by his promotion was the foremanship of the lathe and spoke department of the works. This has just been filled by the elevation to it of Bert Olds, for some time past the shipping clerk of the establishment.

Mr. Olds is in every way fitted for the position. He commenced work in the factory as an apprentice and is thoroughly familiar with the department over which he has been given the foremanship, having served in it as a workman for several years. He is a young man of good mechanical talents and pleasant ways and will prove a popular foreman.

The position of shipping clerk made vacant by his promotion has been filled by the appointment of H. A. Frary, for some time foreman of the warehouse department. Mr. Frary is pleasant and capable and will fill his new position in a creditable manner. His host of friends will be glad to hear of his deserved promotion. William Winike takes the place made vacant by Mr. Frary's promotion. He is a deserving young man and will give satisfaction to his employers.

TIE FLASHES.

Superintendent Wilder, of the Olds works, is at Chicago to-day.

Passenger Agent R. G. Thompson was at Huntington yesterday.

Foreman R. H. Harrison, of the Pittsburg shops, remains quite ill.

Chas. S. Knight, of the electric works, went to Dayton, Ohio, this morning.

Thomas Hurley, of Valparaiso, has taken a position at the Kerr Murray works.

William Lonegran, of the Kerr Murray works, is off duty on account of an injured hand.

About $300,000 will be expended during the present year on the Pennsylvania southwestern system for bridges.

Foreman Robt. Cunningham, of the Star Iron Tower company, is at Allegheny City, Pa., superintending work for his firm.

Superintendent of Bridges and Buildings Dunlap, of the Wabash, was in the city yesterday. He is the successor of J. B. Mitchell and took his new position last Saturday.

R. H. Frisinger, station agent for the Chicago and Atlantic Railway company, at Bobo, attempted suicide on Saturday night by shooting himself through the bowels, while temporarily insane.

Owen Barry, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shops, tells us that Ed. Deegan, who returned to work this morning, fell through the hatchway at his barn the other day and injured himself. He also tells us that Ed's Jersey cow has a calf. These two items may or may not fit together, but we give them just as Mr. Barry told us.

Tim Fetters, the brakeman injured at Huntington on the Wabash some time ago, died at the company's hospital at Peru Sunday from injuries received. He was twenty-seven years old and unmarried.

The Northern Pacific has contracted with the Baldwin locomotive works for seventy-five engines. Work has been commenced on the order. The company has also recently contracted with Pullman for a large number of cars.

The Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago is building a new freight yard at Conway, twenty-three miles west of Pittsburg, which will be the finest in the United States. It will have over fifteen miles of track within its limits.

One of the sections of a bill prepared by the Federation of Railway Men to be presented to the different state legislatures calls for the employment of one brakeman for each ten freight cars while en route. Another section of the bill reads as follows: "The regular day for train service and for persons employed for such purposes shall be eight hours out of every twenty-four, and no man shall be required or compelled to work for more hours within each twenty-four hours." The 100,000 members of the federation in support of this measure assert that railroad accidents occur more frequently because train men are overworked than from any other cause.

The railroad Gazette in its last issue publishes the number of railroad accidents reported in this country for 1889, and gives, as far as known, the cause. The record shows that during the year 492 persons were killed in accidents, and of the number 108 were passengers. Notwithstanding the seemingly numerous accidents of 1889, there were sixty fewer passengers killed than in 1888, and but 336 employes were killed in these accidents, against 434 in similar accidents in 1888. During the year 104 accidents were the result of failure to give or observe proper signals, or a mistake as regards orders. Of course, accidents of this class are inexcusable in these times, when the appliances for the safe moving of trains are so well perfected.

ONE ON SENATOR INGALLS.

With profound regret we learn that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has resolved so far to withdraw his patronage and sanction from English literature as to permit nobody to use his name in a soap advertisement. By the way this reminds us of something that once happened to Senator Ingalls. Mr. David Lewsley, who was at that time a reporter for a Washington journal, was sent to hold an interview with the Senator, upon an important matter of State. The Senator, who had no intention whatever of being drawn into conversation on that subject, met Mr. Lewsley with his accustomed grace and courteously veered the conversation into other channels. Somehow, for want of another handy subject, the Senator said something about beards, which led to barbers, and of course to the general subject of shaving.

"By all means," said Senator Ingalls, "you should learn to shave yourself," and then he went on with a learned, thoughtful, and highly entertaining disquisition on the advantages, economic and metaphysic, of shaving oneself rather than hiring a barber to do it. Mr. Lewsley paid careful attention to all the Senator said, fixed facts and dates in his mind, and said nothing. When the Senator had related circumstantially his own varied experiences with razors and brushes and soaps, recommending this make of blade and that brand of lather to Mr. Lewsley's use, the reporter, convinced that he could not learn what he had come to learn, arose to go. There was, or the reporter imagined there was, a sort of merry twinkle in Senator Ingall's eye as he politely bowed his caller from the room—a twinkle which seemed to say: "I have made the young man really forget what he came for."

The next morning Senator Ingalls was more or less horrified at finding in the local newspaper a true report of all he had said, including the earnest recommendation of a certain shaving soap, which he unqualifiedly pronounced to be the very best that could be had. But the reporter's vengeance was not yet satisfied. He marked the article and sent it to the manufacturer of the recommended soap. In a fortnight the newspapers, the periodicals, and all the many means employed by advertisers were brought into use, and Senator Ingalls' eloquent eulogy of that soap was printed in every form that could be devised to attract popular attention. And the worst of it was, the Senator could not deny that very expressions, earnest and glowing as they were, were all his own.—Washington Post.

AN OLD MAN JAILED.

One Jacobs Avenges Himself on the Man Who Swore Against Him.

Yesterday morning one Jacobs, who is employed by Ryan's transfer company, was fined by Mayor Harding for kicking in a door of William Payton's house on St. Mary's avenue.

A dance was in progress at the time and the owner, to protect his premises, used a club.

Jacobs paid his fine, and to avenge himself filed an affidavit against Payton yesterday afternoon for assault and battery, and the mayor assessed a fine which the old man was unable to pay.

Leaning upon the arm of an officer he was taken to jail, where he will serve thirteen days.

FRUIT HOUSE PRICES FOR 1890.

This year opens favorable for the people, so far as the Sugar Market is concerned. Last season the great sugar trust had their grip on the market and made it ruinous to the purchaser—so much so that Sugars were advanced in 60 days at least 50 per cent. This is now over—the Sugar Trust is broken and Sugars have declined to a point lower than they ever were—the last reduction is 1 cent per lb.

The high price of Coffee has induced a great many to try Tea—and when it is considered that a pound of Tea can be had for the price of a pound of Coffee and that it will go twice as far, it is not to be wondered at that there is a great increase in our Tea Trade. The truth is we sell double the quantity we used to a few years ago. Our motto is selling large quantities at a small profit, for we purchase direct of the Importers and then in selling direct to our customers we save three profits—the speculator, jobber and the wholesale dealer. We sell a good, rich drawing Tea at 20c. lb., and one grade as low as 10c. lb.

MRS. MORTON'S REMOVAL.

A Fashionable Dressmaking Establishment Takes Up New Quarters.

To-day Mrs. Louise Morton vacated her quarters at 128 Calhoun street, and removed her business to 95 East Jefferson street. The location is between Barr and Lafayette street, the fourth house west of Lafayette street, and is as desirable as could be found. The street cars run within a few doors of the place.

It is Mrs. Morton's intention to conduct business on as large a scale as ever. She has in the past attracted much of the best custom of Fort Wayne, the secret of which is her keen conception of fitting and draping to suit all tastes. The most fastidious leave her establishment always with a feeling of satisfaction.

The ladies tailoring system of cutting and fitting garments, one which she has adopted, is a most popular one among the ladies who have their dresses made, a consistent fact too, when it is considered what graceful curves and stylish settings are the results of its use.

Mrs. Morton has surrounded herself with a corps of assistants who know their business to perfection, another big point in favor, as it is indeed an important requirement in fine lines of dressmaking to have hands who have the work down to the perfection of art.

She will also have on hand a full line of furnishings and trimmings of which it is every lady's delight to inspect and select from.

That the new departure of Mrs. Morton will prove pleasant and successful can hardly be questioned, because her trade has been constantly growing greater, at present having exceeded her most sanguine expectations. Congratulations over her prosperity are in order.

Invitation to the Show-Going Public.

Manager Geary invites any gentleman to call at his office, World's Museum, and inspect his scrap books, showing conclusively that he has and will cater to the respectable classes. Other money he don't want.

Columbus Capital, Sunday, Sept. 23: "No place of amusement affords more pleasure to the ladies and children than the World's Museum. This amusement resort is visited by ladies and children unaccompanied by an escort, and being conducted in such an orderly manner, they receive courteous treatment and are entertained and pleased."

Columbus Herald, Sunday, Sept. 30: "A most novel entertainment and exhibition is going on at the World's Museum this week. Nothing more or less than a baby show. Everyone knows what this implies. If the exhibition be a success—and is it necessary to question the success of any enterprise of which Manager Geary has charge—it is certainly surprising to see the number of ladies and children going to the World's Museum unaccompanied. It speaks volumes for the management."

Pittsburg Press, Sept. 10, 1888: "Booth and Barrett rush fades into insignificance beside it. Such was the remarks made while gazing at the crowds surging into the World's last night. The majority of them women and children. Manager Geary is certainly the right man in the right place. No man need be afraid to send his wife or child to the museum as it is conducted strictly first-class."

"He who makes two blades of grass grow, where but one grew before, is a public benefactor."

Akin to such an accomplishment is the work of the merchant, who by reduced expenses, ampler resources, and better business methods, accomplishes the task of placing upon the market the necessaries of life, at a reduced percentage of profit.

This is the task to which we have addressed ourselves, and which we are successfully working out. We occupy Fort Wayne, LaFayette and Terre Haute, three of the chief cities of the state.

We have discovered that the man who retails one million dollars' worth of Furniture and Carpets yearly, can buy his goods 10 per cent. less than one who sells $30,000 worth, and we have also discovered that such an enormous business is profitable, if only this 10 per cent. that is saved is the amount of profit made. In other words, the company that retails one million can sell at what the goods cost the man who sells $30,000, and yet make a gross profit of one hundred thousand dollars annually.

In saying this we have said nothing that you did not know before, but perhaps we have impressed upon your mind the fact that when you want

SORROW AT THE CAPITAL.

The Tracy Fire Horror the Theme of Conversation at Washington--Investigating the Origin.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Secretary Tracy appears to be considerably improved this morning and rapidly recovering from the effects of suffocation. As the effects of opiates wear off he begins to realize more firmly the loss of his wife and daughter. The reaction from opiates administered yesterday naturally leaves him physically weaker.

His son Frank reached Washington at 1 o'clock this morning and remained at the executive mansion during the night. This morning he went to the house of Bancroft Davis and joined General Catlin, Mrs. Tracy's brother, and a few friends, who remained with his father.

President Harrison will possibly join them there after the funeral of Mrs. Coppinger, which he is now attending, and arrange for removing the secretary to the executive mansion. The arrangements for the funeral of Mrs. Tracy and her daughter will be decided upon at the same time. The latest reports from the others who were injured at the fire, state that they are getting along very nicely.

There are various theories as to the cause of yesterday's conflagration. Baffled at every other turn, many minds naturally turn to incendiarism and have plenty of clews to support such a theory. The suddenness with which the fire broke out in all parts of the house and the apparent stupor of some of the inmates seem to demonstrate that incendiarism had followed an attempted, if not successful, robbery. A large sum of money was found in the back yard, about $600, and it is argued that persons in danger of their lives, as were secretary and Mrs. Tracy, would never think of throwing the money out of the window. Every theory which has thus far been advanced will be carefully investigated.

The commissioners have directed Building Inspector Entwisle to make a thorough examination of the heating apparatus of the house, and he will be assisted by Chief of Police Harris. One of the principal architects in Washington has examined the destroyed house. He says that the heat used was steam; that the main steam pipe runs through the house was confined in a wooden well. In his opinion, this wood had thoroughly dried during the past two months, and finally, reaching the ignition point yesterday morning, suddenly went off like tinder.

Bridget Sweeney, the laundress, was not in the house when the fire was discovered. She left it a few minutes previously to attend church and according to her story there was no evidence of fire when she departed.

The effects of the awful tragedy are widespread in society. The carrying of the bodies of the two dead ladies to the white house, and their burial from there virtually ends the official hospitalities of the season. Were it otherwise the president and Mrs. Harrison, in the face of the successive calamities in the cabinet household, could not feel able to go on with any works of a public social character. As soon as the deaths of Mrs. and Miss Tracy were known yesterday, nearly all the prominent families who had cards out for parties that would occur this week, sent private and public messages to withdraw them.

The funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy will take place from the president's mansion at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. The services will occur in the east room. Their remains will be placed temporarily in vaults in Rock Creek cemetery. The complete arrangements for the funeral will not be perfected until late this afternoon.

Secretary Tracy was removed to the white house at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

The Members Vote Not to Seat Goff by 40 to 43.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 4.—The investigating committee on Harris charges reported to day exonerating Goff and Fleming from any attempt to corrupt any member of the legislature, but that there was sufficient evidence to cause a suspicion against Stollinger.

A vote was then taken on Judge Maxwell's resolution to seat Goff, resulting, yeas 40, nays 43. It was a strict party vote, President Carr voting with the democrats. A vote was then taken on Chairman Keeye's resolution to seat Fleming, resulting, yeas 43, nays 40, Carr again voting with the democrats.

Five Hundred Miners Strike.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Feb. 4.—All the miners and day hands, some five hundred in number, employed in the mines of Cabol & Co., quit work yesterday on account of a difficulty between the bank boss of Maple Valley mine and some miners. Meetings are being held, however, and it is thought certain that the existing differences will be amicably adjusted and that the men will return to work at once.

WANT THEIR INDEPENDENCE.

Young Men of Toronto Look Forward to Canada's Freedom From Great Britain's Power.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 4.—The young mens' liberal club passed the following resolutions last night by a unanimous vote:

WHEREAS, The house of commons has adopted an address to her majesty, the queen, setting forth, among other things, that the Canadian people desire to perpetuate the political connection now existing between this country and the motherland.

Resolved, That the members of this club, while having a sincere admiration and regard for British constitutional government, and a deep and abiding attachment for our kin across the sea, earnestly desire and confidently look forward to the establishment in our land of a nationality independent of Great Britain and free from all European complications, and we are of the opinion that our parliamentary representatives would act more in harmony with the wishes of their constituents if, instead of presenting addresses of a reactionary character, declaring their attachment to British connection, they would endeavor to secure for the Canadian people a larger degree of self-government and thus prepare the way for the complete independence of Canada.

DINED IN STYLE.

Twenty-one Tramps Take Meals at a Decatur Restaurant and Pay Ten Cents for the Whole Feast.

DECATUR, Ind., Jan. 4.—Twenty one tramps met in this city Sunday, ordered meals at a restaurant, and after they had eaten, compelled the proprietor to accept ten cents as payment in full. They then made their way beyond the city limits and camped.

Yesterday a posse from Willshire, O., a town about ten miles east of here, came in quest of persons who had Saturday night burglarized several stores at that place. Among those in the posse were John Zaman, a clothing merchant who had several suits of clothes stolen, and a hardware merchant, who had been robbed of about twenty-five revolvers and a lot of cartridges.

On visiting the camp, Zaman observed that his missing clothing was worn by several of the tramps. On attempting to arrest them they produced the stolen revolvers and defied the police. Finally three of those wearing stolen clothes were captured. No one was injured in the fight excepting Policeman Smith, who received a slight wound on the head. Eighteen of the tramps escaped.

SHOT AND KILLED.

Mark M. Herr Murdered on the Pacific Coast--A Texas Tragedy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 4.—Mark M. Herr, formerly assistant sergeant-at-arms of the United States house of representatives, was shot and killed here last night by Jack Naughton, a man whom he had befriended for years. Naughton had been acting as an agent for one of the shady insurance schemes of this city and the fatal quarrel occurred over Naughton's acts in appropriating some of their funds. Herr was well-known on the coast and in Washington. He was a son-in-law of Surveyor General John A. Benson and had strong political backing during the Cleveland administration.

COLUMBUS, Texas, Feb. 4.—Captain W. J. Calvin, of the Ross light infantry, was shot dead here last night by J. W. Ashburner, a constable. Calvin was unarmed and there is said to have been no provocation for the shooting. Ashburner fled and is still at large.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4.—W. B. Burnett, a traveling salesman, who registered as from Washington, at Greeu's hotel yesterday, committed suicide in his room at 1:15 o'clock this morning. He stood in front of the mirror in his underclothing and put a bullet in his heart. He was dead when two men rushed into his room.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 3.—The bodies of the entombed miners in the Nottingham shaft were found yesterday and were taken out horribly burned.

LAW RULES OUR NATION!

The One Hundredth Anniversary of the Organization of the Supreme Court Celebrated at New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The exercises attendant upon the centenary celebration of the organization of the supreme court of the United States took place in this city to-day. At 10 o'clock the procession, headed by the judges of the supreme court, members of the United States in full official robes, followed by the representatives of the federal district court of New York, court of appeals, the supreme, superior, common, and other courts, marched down the various aisles of the opera house, and assumed the various seats and boxes allotted to them.

The members of the supreme court of the United States occupied seats on the stage with ex-President Grover Cleveland and many legal dignitaries. When at 10:30, Mr. Cleveland took his place as president of the assemblage, there was loud and prolonged cheering and he delivered the speech of welcome.

When Mr. Cleveland, who had been enthusiastically received throughout, had finished speaking the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix offered prayer.

Judge Wm. H. Arnoux followed with an address of "Welcome to the Court."

The next speaker was Mr. Wm. Allen Butler.

The Hon. Henry Hitchcock, of Missouri, followed in an able discourse on "The Supreme Court and the Constitution," which elicited much applause. "Personal Characters of the Chief Justices" was the subject handled by Mr. Thomas J. Semmes, of Louisianna. Edward J. Phelps, of Vermont, next read a paper entitled "The Supreme Court and the Sovereignty of the People." Mr. Justice Field then, amid much applause and in his usual eloquent manner, responded for the court.

Justice Field, after a tribute to the bar of the state of New York, recalled with pleasure his connection with it prior to his departure for the Pacific coast in 1849. In every age and with every people, he said, there have been celebrations of triumphs in war and of triumphs in peace, but never has there been, in any country, a celebration like this to commemorate the establishment of a judicial tribunal as a co-ordinate and permanent part of this government.

This celebration had its inspiration in the conviction that this tribunal has materially contributed to the just appreciation and ready obedience to the constitution of the United States. This constitution was essential to that dual government by which alone free institutions can be maintained in a country so widely extended as ours.

This constitution which has been productive of such vast results, was the outgrowth of institutions and doctrines inherited from our ancestors and applied under the new conditions of our country. The possibility of a dissolution of the union of states was never considered by its framers, and in all its provisions, as Justice Chase aptly remarked, "Looks to an indestructible union composed of indestructible states." Even the late civil war could not shake its stability. The judicial department, established under this constitution is co-extensive. It reaches to every judicial question which arises under the constitution, treaties and laws of the United States.

In some cases, the justice said, the court may have made mistakes. The judges would be more than human if this was not so. But they have striven to the utmost of their abilities to be right and perform functions to the advancement of justice and the good of the country.

As to the needs of the supreme court, Justice Field said, that it should not be burdened with work, and should have some relief from the immense burden cast upon it. Every suitor, however humble, should be given an opportunity to be heard.

Up to the middle of the present century the calendar of the court did not average 140 cases a term; the calendar of the present term exceeds 1,500. Something should be done to relieve the crowded docket, and that speedily. It becomes more and more the duty of the court to firmly enforce every guarantee of the constitution. "Sustained by professional and public confidence."

Justice Field concluded, "the supreme court may hope to still further strengthen the hearts of all in love, admiration and reverence for the constitution of the United States, not the least inheritance possessed by a free people."

Mr. Field, resuming his seat, and after a few selections by the band, the Rev. Talbot, of the Collegiate Reformed church, delivered the benediction and the immense audience dispersed. Tonight the banquet will be held at the Lennox Lyceum.

CONGRESS.

Speaker Reed Continues to Count the Democrats as Voting.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—In the house this morning the democrats demanded the reading of the journal in full, and when it was completed Mr. Springer declared that a part had been omitted and demanded the reading of the omitted portion.

The speaker paid no attention to Mr. Springer, but recognized Mr. McKinley, who moved the approval of the journal and demanded the previous question, which was ordered 165 to none, all the members of the democratic side being entered in the journal as present and not voting.

CARLISLE'S STATEMENT.

An address to the country, explaining the position of the democratic members of the house, has been prepared by ex-Speaker Carlisle. It has been signed by all the democratic members of the house. It reviews the facts that led to the present situation in the house, and concludes as follows:

The claim of the majority that they have a right to govern the house without attending its sessions and taking part in the conduct of its business is too preposterous to require refutation. It must be evident to any one who understands the position taken by the democratic minority in the house that it cannot possibly result in any injury to the country, or any injustice to the majority. Its only effect will be to compel the republican majority, elected by the people, to assume the responsibility imposed upon them.

On the other hand, no one can foresee the evils that may result from the inauguration of the practice of counting votes not cast in order to make a quorum. Under it a minority of the members-elect to the house and senate may pass the most tyrannical laws for the oppression of the people, the most corrupt laws for the spoliation of the public treasury. Whether so intended or not, its direct tendency is to break down the barriers heretofore existing for the protection of the citizen against the encroachments of power and the spoliation of the treasury by destroying the limitation which the constitution has wisely imposed upon the legislative department. Constitutions are made to restrain majorities and protect minorities. A majority ruling without limitations or restraints upon its power is a pure despotism, and is inconsistent with our system of government.

A GAY DECEIVER.

James Wilkinson Runs Down J. L. McQuaid, a Bigamist.

Through a peculiar chain of circumstances, and careful detective work, Mr. James Wilkinson, manager of the Diamond hotel, and ex-deputy United States marshal, has succeeded in having one J. L. McQuaid, a bigamist, placed behind the bars.

The case is a sensational one.

On the 8th of last December, there registered at the Diamond hotel, a rather handsome man, of dandy air, and a woman of pretty appearance and refined manners. The man registered as J. L. McQuaid and wife, Pittsburg, Pa.

It was plainly discernible that the couple were but newly bride and groom, and the latter went so far as to say that they had been married at Toledo, only a few days previous.

The couple stayed at the hotel until the following Wednesday, when Mr. McQuaid sent his wife to her parents at Fowlersville, Mich.

Mr. McQuaid then took Mr. Wilkinson aside and said confidentially that he was traveling for Coates & Co., hoop rake manufacturers, Alliance, Ohio, and that he had drawn on his firm for $25, having sent the draft that morning. He smoothly stated that he was short of funds and had to get away and asked the landlord to pay him the difference above the board bill and collect the money at the bank. Mr. Wilkinson did not doubt his boarder's honesty and as the fellow had a sample case and credentials from Coates & Co., he acceded to the request.

It developed that the draft was not accepted by Coates & Co. The firm wrote a letter to Mr. Wilkinson, stating that J. L. McQuaid had once been in their employ, but was not when the draft was sent.

In another letter sent shortly after they stated that McQuaid's wife had some small interest in the firm at Alliance.

The letter was enclosed by Mr. Wilkinson in one written to McQuaid's wife at Fowlersville, Mich.

Soon an answer was received from Albert Dodge, an attorney and an uncle of the woman, stating that there must be a mistake, as Mrs. McQuaid had no interest in the business of Coates & Co. He kindly asked more information of McQuaid.

Here is where the hotel-keeper got in some detective work. He suspicioned wife No. 2, and communicated the fact to Mr. Dodge, who telegraphed him at once to locate McQuaid at all hazards.

This he soon did at Greensboro, Pa. Correspondence with the sheriff there elicited the information that McQuaid has a wife and one child living down there.

Mr. Wilkinson worked his case fine and yesterday received a letter from Mr. Dodge reading as follows:

"Received a telegram from Greensboro, Pa., instructing me to get requisition papers for James L. McQuaid as our deputy sheriff has him safe."

The prisoner will be brought through this city shortly on his way to Fowlersville where he will meet wife No. 1 and have the sentence passed upon him that will send him to the penitentiary for bigamy.

McQuaid is well known among the hardware dealers of the city and has operated here for weeks at a time.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—For Indiana: Slightly warmer; southerly winds; local rains.

ASSAULTED BY THAMPS.

James Hennessy, a Plumber, Gets Into a Very Bad Crowd.

James Hennessy was before Mayor Harding this morning, on a plain charge of intoxication. He was arrested by Officer Limecooly, who responded to a telephone message to the effect that a bloody fight occurred and that "one man was badly cut." When he arrived on the scene he found Hennessy bleeding from several wounds in the head, and also suffering from a burden of whisky. The man was very drunk.

The prisoner said to a SENTINEL reporter that he was a plumber by trade and that he came from Columbus, Ohio. He got several drinks ahead, in which condition he wandered out Main street to Nebraska, where he was attacked by several tramps who demanded money of him. He could not comply with their request, because his finances had gone to purchase his "jag."

They then drew knives and had it not been for interference, Mr. Hennessy would probably not be able to tell his tale so blithely as he did this morning. He was sent to jail where his wounds will be cared for.

A LION TAMER'S LUCK.

Joe, the Boot-black, Decreed a Divorce by Judge O'Rourke.

This morning the stillness of the circuit court room was disturbed by the calling up of the famous divorce case in which Joe Griffiths, alias Joe White, alias Joe, the Lion Tamer, alias Joe, the Bootblack, was plaintiff.

A large and fashionable audience was present. The defendant was not present, and the Attorney A. H. Bittinger opened his client's case at once. It was shown in the complaint that Joe was inveigled into matrimony by a heartless female, the consideration being that he got some valuables of hers out of pawn. Poor Joe mortgaged a lot in Abbott's addition in order to raise the money with which to accomplish such ends. So he won his bride.

It is alleged in the complaint that the plaintiff was dogged around by his spouse and that they did not live happily. Cruelty and abandonment are the principal charges sifted down.

Judge O'Rourke without hesitancy granted the plaintiff the legal separation.

There was a rush on the part of the spectators to shake hands and congratulate the lucky lion tamer.

Joe is celebrating and it may be sometime before he can ply his usual avocation as he has another prospective bride on the string.

ALMOST ASSURED.

Superintendent Stevens Likely to Become Manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio.

J. T. Harahan, general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, whose resignation was announced in yesterday's SENTINEL, will retire from the service of the company on the 10th inst.

It is Mr. Harahan's intention to go to Florida and spend a couple of months on his farm before again entering railway service.

Upon the retirement of Mr. Harahan the office of general manager will be abolished and Gen. Supt. G. W. Stevens will very likely have his duties extended. While no official statement has been made, it is very likely that the general superintendent will have his headquarters in Cincinnati.

Such an elevation as stated in THE SENTINEL yesterday is predicted in railroad circles. If it comes true a further prediction can be made that some of our local Wabash employes will be handsomely remembered by Mr. Stevens.

A MYSTERIOUS TRIP.

President Herrick and Trustees of the M. E. College Leave for Indianapolis.

This afternoon J. W. Hayden, Rev. A. E. Mahin, and President H. N. Herrick, of the Fort Wayne M. E. college, took the train for Indianapolis.

Mr. Hayden, president of the board of trustees, was detained a few moments by a SENTINEL reporter at the depot and the question as to the purpose of the trip was put.

"Our visit to Indianapolis is of a significant nature and is of the utmost importance to the affairs of the college."

"Is it in relation to a loan talked of some months ago?" asked the reporter.

"Oh no; not that at all. If our object is accomplished the papers will bear of it soon enough;" and with that Mr. Hayden swung onto the platform of the departing train.

TUESDAY, FEB. 4, 1890.

THE weather remains spring like.

REED'S rulings continue to keep congress in an uproar.

REVIVALS are in progress in several of the city churches.

WE were treated to a thunder shower in midwinter last night.

THE streets of the city remain in a horribly muddy condition.

THE oldest resident says we have never had such an open and mild winter as this.

THERE is still a large amount of sickness in the city. La grippe has not lost his hold altogether.

SADNESS hangs over the homes of two of the members of President Harrison's cabinet—Tracy and Blaine.

THE Smith-Jackson contested election case from Virginia was decided in the house yesterday and the republican member, Smith, was seated. It was not a question of right, but of might, and as the republicans had a majority the outrage was accomplished.

THERE is every reason to believe that the sale of four Toledo breweries to the English brewery syndicate is an accomplished fact. The breweries are: Grasser & Brand's, Lenk's, Buckeye, and the Findlay. The money for the first payment has been deposited in bank and the papers have been forwarded to London. These sales embrace the entire plant, not merely a controlling interest, and the price, while not yet definitely announced, is understood to be over $3,000,000.

THE best material to be used in the paving of the streets of this city is just now a question of considerable interest to a large number of property holders. THE SENTINEL is asked every day to publish communications setting forth the merits of fire brick, asphalt and other material. Each has its advocates and each has those who are pushing the merits of their respective pavements, but we prefer not to boom anybody's pavement and this is the reason we have refused to print free communications on the subject.

THE fifteenth annual report of the board of trustees of Purdue university for the year ending June 30, 1889, was filed with the governor Saturday. It is made up almost altogether of the report of James H. Smart, president of the university. The whole number of students in attendance during the year was 430, an increase of seventy-one over the preceding year. The growth of the institution from the year of its establishment—1875—has been rapid. In that year the attendance was sixty-four. Seventy Indiana counties were represented by the students during the past year, along with those from seventeen states and two foreign countries, Japan and Spain.

THE supreme court of the United States yesterday rendered an opinion affirming the constitutionality of the Edmunds-Tucker Idaho test oath, intended to prevent Mormons from voting. The case came upon an application for a writ of habeas corpus, made by Samuel B. Davis, who is in jail in Idaho, having been sentenced for unlawfully taking the prescribed test oath when he was a member of the Mormon church. The court denies the application for a writ of habeas corpus, holding that polygamy is a crime, and that the constitutional provision guaranteeing freedom of religion is not intended to prevent punishment of any person who, in the name of religion commits a crime in the eyes of the law.

THE value of THE SENTINEL'S telegraph service was forcibly illustrated yesterday in the publication of the particulars of the Tracy fire at Washington. Bulletins of the horror were posted by us on the board at the entrance to the office and they were eagerly read by thousands, but when our paper went to press at 3 o'clock our readers were furnished with a magnificent three-column account of the holocaust, as given by the United Press. THE SENTINEL has a special wire running into this office. Here our own operator sits at his instrument and takes the news as it is flashed every day over the wires from every quarter of the globe. This is a great feature and we are glad to know that our readers appreciate it. No family should be content without THE SENTINEL.

THE sorrow which came to the home of Secretary of Navy Tracy at Washington yesterday, the dreadful particulars of which were told in our telegraph colums last evening, calls for the sympathy of the nation, and it will be given to the heart-broken man. With the dawning of the day death came by two of the loved members of his family—his devoted wife and his daughter. It was a blow which would have crushed the heart of the strongest of men, and it fell upon him when he was lying almost at death's door himself. The news of the death of the darlings of his heart was told to him gently by President Harrison, and our dispatches say he swooned away as he heard it. It is hard enough to lose dear ones, but when death come as it did in this instance it is doubly crushing and doubly sad.

THE Lafayette Courier says: "Col. D. N. Foster, of Fort Wayne, who had been in the city the greater part of the week invoicing, returned home Saturday night. He states that his business in Lafayette has shown a very satisfactory increase during the past year, and proposes to do still better this year if elegant goods at reasonable prices will tend towards it."

THE indifferent success of agricultural departments of alleged agricultural colleges is one of the notable things in the educational field. Fifteen years ago Purdue university was established as an agricultural school. It has become a state institution of several departments, all successful except the agricultural. The annual report of the institution now on file with the governor, recognizes this condition and laments so few pupils enter the school of agriculture. President Smart denies that the lack of agricultural students is due to neglect or apathy on the part of the management, and attributes it to the supposed fact that farmers themselves are not yet alive to the necessity for educating their sons liberally. The total attendance at Purdue has grown to 429.

MISSES NANNIE and MATTIE, daughters of Engineer Sam Keller and wife, of West Lewis street, have returned from a three weeks' visit with friends at Valparaiso.

DR. L. T. STURGIS, the city health officer, reports fifty-seven deaths for January. One is credited to la grippe and four to pneumonia resulting from it. Consumption claimed six victims.

MESSRS. GUS RAUH, GEORGE MCCURDY and OTTO MICHAELS went to Chicago last night. They will spend a couple of weeks there. They will be joined by George Sweringen and Earl Johnson to-night.

ENGINEER JOHN G. BECHTEL, of the Pittsburg road, is lying dangerously ill at his home on West Washington street. He was operated on for tumor a few days ago and the hemorrhages have been frequent, the loss of blood causing much weakness.

HERE is a short sermon by a woman, though not preached from a pulpit. It is a good one, and is pretty sure to hit your own case somewhere, whatever may be your age and circumstances; "The best thing to give to your enemy is forgiveness; to an opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart; to your child, a good example; to your father, deference; to your mother, conduct that will make her proud of you; to yourself, respect; to all men, charity.

SUPERINTENDENT BLAKE, of the institute for feeble minded children, at Richmond, informed a reporter that on last Saturday seventy of the children and seventeen of the employes were ill with the grippe. The asylum resembled a hospital, on a large scale, but this morning a large proportion of the sufferers were in a state of convalescence. Only one death occurred, and that was a child whose disease was complicated with epilepsy. Superintendent Blake thinks the asylum at Fort Wayne will be ready for occupancy the first of June.

Plain Directions so that anyone can Hasten Death and make Catching Grave Diseases an Easy Thing.

The sagacious cuttlefish has sensible old saying, "Never be in a hurry unless you're catching dress," might well be borne in mind by certain people. They profess the most unbounded love for life, and yet are in the habit of a hurry to welcome Death and Disease to their arms. Like the low rabbit-hunting, they go miles out of their way, and set all kinds of traps to catch Consumption, Typhoid Fever, Bright's Disease, Kidney Complaint, Grippe, etc.

Most people know that a strongly beating heart, healthy bounding pulse, perfect digestion, clear skin with open pores, regularly moving bowels, and constantly active kidneys are the best safeguards against disease and death. And yet how many are daily neglecting these very things; and, when struck down, wonder why they are sick, but their neighbor isn't.

Their neighbor probably had good sense, on the first warning of closed pores, Influenza, Consumption, Typhoid Fever, and Grippe, commenced using Rogers' Royal Nervine, and so escaped much suffering.

To "keep well" is away ahead of to "get well," and Rogers' Royal Nervine is the very thing that Nature and the Almighty have blessed us with to help us do it. It is a great nerve, nerve-food, and anti-paralytic and anti-dyspeptic. Price, $1.00.

BIG GUNS COMING.

Grand Master and Grand Secretary of Locomotive Firemen Here Tomorrow.

To-morrow afternoon there will be a meeting of the Brotherhood of the Locomotive Engineers and Firemen in this city, at which Grand Master Sargent and Secretary and Treasurer Debbs, of the Firemen, will deliver speeches. The meeting is federative in character and is held solely to create an harmonious unity between the orders, thereby helping each one individually in their movements.

Messrs. Sargent and Debbs have been traveling through the states and their tour will last some time. They are national officers.

MORTALITY among colored people in the South is between 3 and 4 per cent higher than among the whites. It seems proved that colored people, as a class, in all our large cities almost totally disregard every rule of hygiene concerning pure air, pure water, and wholesome food.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

THE TRUE WAY TO BRING UP BOYS

"YES, sir, I believe in thrashing a boy," he was saying in a loud voice to a Cass-ave. carful of passengers; "the more you thrash a boy the better it is for the boy."

"I think, sir," remarked a meek-looking man next to him, "that your language is very intemperate."

"What do you object to, may I ask? Is it the word thrash? You wouldn't have me say 'beat' would you? Perhaps flog would suit you better."

"I cannot see the necessity of flogging boys, sir."

"What would you do with them, may I ask?"

"Reason with them. Talk to them in mild and encouraging tones. Remember that you were once a boy yourself."

"I do, sir; and I am thankful every day of my life for the personal chastisements my good father bestowed on me."

"Cruel, cruel," murmured the meek man. "It is degrading to a boy to be whipped like a brute beast. No boy requires it. He can always be managed with kindness."

Every woman in the car looked curiously at the meek man, and the advocate of thrashing had a temporary chill. Then he leaned forward and inquired of the other:

"Can you manage your boys without corporal punishment?"

"I haven't any boys," was the serene answer, and everybody laughed.

It is so easy to bring up other people's children.—Detroit Free Press.

RUINED BY A CIPHER.

A Train Dispatcher's Life Wrecked by a Moment of Forgetfulness.—Busy Center Pinches.

"There goes a man whose life was ruined by forgetting the simple character 0," said a prominent railroad man to a San Francisco Examiner reporter, pointing to a ragged, besotted man shambling along the street, unmindful of the rain.

He was a train dispatcher on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad once, having worked up to that position from messenger boy in the telegraph office. One Sunday he had only two trains on his division, an express train westward bound and a fast stock train running east. The day was warm and sultry and Bill, for that was his name, had hard work to keep awake. He knew that as soon as he made the meeting point for the two trains he could doze, and he impatiently awaited the time. When the trains were close enough together for him to figure a meeting point he sent an order to the passenger train to meet and pass the stock train at a little station called Willow Valley, fixing the time at 12:50. To the stock train he sent an order that it could have until 1:25 to make Willow Valley for the passenger. See the mistake. He forgot the 0, and hence gave the stock train thirty-five minutes more than he should. Bill saw his mistake ten minutes after he had made it, but there being no telegraph station between the points where the trains were given the orders or at the meeting point he could do nothing to rectify it. He sent for the superintendent and ordered out the wrecking crew, then sat at the key pale as death, the cold perspiration running down his face in streams, awaiting news of the collision.

It came. The passenger train reached Willow Valley on time, waited the required thirty minutes under the time-card rules for the freight train and then pulled out. Three minutes later the two trains met on a curve, both running at a high rate of speed. Fourteen lives were lost in the collision, besides $100,000 worth of property destroyed. Bill resigned at once, and the next day disappeared. For a long time it was thought he had committed suicide, but I met him on the street here one day just as you see him—a total wreck."

DESERVED PROMOTIONS.

The Sentinel announced a few days ago the promotion of F. W. Dunham to the position of superintendent of the Olds wheel works. The place made vacant by his promotion was the foremanship of the lathe and spoke department of the works. This has just been filled by the elevation to it of Bert Olds, for some time past the shipping clerk of the establishment.

Mr. Olds is in every way fitted for the position. He commenced work in the factory as an apprentice and is thoroughly familiar with the department over which he has been given the foremanship, having served in it as a workman for several years. He is a young man of good mechanical talents and pleasant ways and will prove a popular foreman.

The position of shipping clerk made vacant by his promotion has been filled by the appointment of H. A. Frary, for some time foreman of the warehouse department. Mr. Frary is pleasant and capable and will fill his new position in a creditable manner. His host of friends will be glad to hear of his deserved promotion. William Winkie takes the place made vacant by Mr. Frary's promotion. He is a deserving young man and will give satisfaction to his employers.

THE FLASHES.

Superintendent Wilder, of the Olds works, is at Chicago to-day.

Passenger Agent R. G. Thompson was at Huntington yesterday.

Foreman R. H. Harrison, of the Pittsburg shops, remains quite ill.

Chas. S. Knight, of the electric works, went to Dayton, Ohio, this morning.

Thomas Hurley, of Valparaiso, has taken a position at the Kerr Murray works.

William Lonegran, of the Kerr Murray works, is off duty on account of an injured hand.

About $300,000 will be expended during the present year on the Pennsylvania southwestern system for bridges.

Foreman Robt. Cunningham, of the Star Iron Tower company, is at Allegheny City, Pa., superintending work for his firm.

Superintendent of Bridges and Buildings Dunlap, of the Wabash, was in the city yesterday. He is the successor of J. B. Mitchell and took his new position last Saturday.

R. H. Frisinger, station agent for the Chicago and Atlantic Railway company, at Bobo, attempted suicide on Saturday night by shooting himself through the bowels, while temporarily insane.

Owen Barry, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shops, tells us that Ed. Deegan, who returned to work this morning, fell through the hatchway at his barn the other day and injured himself. He also tells us that Ed's Jersey cow has a calf. These two items may or may not fit together, but we give them just as Mr. Barry told us.

Tim Fetters, the brakeman injured at Huntington on the Wabash some time ago, died at the company's hospital at Peru Sunday from injuries received. He was twenty-seven years old and unmarried.

The Northern Pacific has contracted with the Baldwin locomotive works for seventy-five engines. Work has been commenced on the order. The company has also recently contracted with Pullman for a large number of cars.

The Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago is building a new freight yard at Conway, twenty-three miles west of Pittsburg, which will be the finest in the United States. It will have over fifteen miles of track within its limits.

One of the sections of a bill prepared by the Federation of Railway Men to be presented to the different state legislatures calls for the employment of one brakeman for each ten freight cars while en route. Another section of the bill reads as follows: "The regular day for train service and for persons employed for such purposes shall be eight hours out of every twenty-four, and no man shall be required or compelled to work for more hours within each twenty-four hours." The 100,000 members of the federation in support of this measure assert that railroad accidents occur more frequently because train men are overworked than from any other cause.

The railroad Gazette in its last issue publishes the number of railroad accidents reported in this country for 1889, and gives, as far as known, the cause. The record shows that during the year 492 persons were killed in accidents, and of the number 108 were passengers. Notwithstanding the seemingly numerous accidents of 1889, there were sixty fewer passengers killed than in 1888, and but 336 employes were killed in these accidents, against 434 in similar accidents in 1888. During the year 104 accidents were the result of failure to give or observe proper signals, or a mistake as regards orders. Of course, accidents of this class are inexcusable in these times, when the appliances for the safe moving of trains are so well perfected.

ONE ON SENATOR INGALLS.

With profound regret we learn that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has resolved so far to withdraw his patronage and sanction from English literature as to permit nobody to use his name in a soap advertisement. By the way this reminds us of something that once happened to Senator Ingalls. Mr. David Lewsley, who was at that time a reporter for a Washington journal, was sent to hold an interview with the Senator, upon an important matter of State. The Senator, who had no intention whatever of being drawn into conversation on that subject, met Mr. Lewsley with his accustomed grace and courteously veered the conversation into other channels. Somehow, for want of another handy subject, the Senator said something about beards, which led to barbers, and of course to the general subject of shaving.

"By all means," said Senator Ingalls, "you should learn to shave yourself," and then he went on with a learned, thoughtful, and highly entertaining disquisition on the advantages, economic and metaphysic, of shaving one-self rather than hiring a barber to do it. Mr. Lewsley paid careful attention to all the Senator said, fixed facts and dates in his mind, and said nothing. When the Senator had related circumstantially his own varied experiences with razors and brushes and soaps, recommending this make of blade and that brand of lather to Mr. Lewsley's use, the reporter, convinced that he could not learn what he had come to learn, arose to go. There was, or the reporter imagined there was, a sort of merry twinkle in Senator Ingall's eye as he politely bowed his caller from the room—a twinkle which seemed to say: "I have made the young man really forget what he came for."

The next morning Senator Ingalls was more or less horrified at finding in the local newspaper a true report of all he had said, including the earnest recommendation of a certain shaving soap, which he unqualifiedly pronounced to be the very best that could be had. But the reporter's vengeance was not yet satisfied. He marked the article and sent it to the manufacturer of the recommended soap. In a fortnight the newspapers, the periodicals, and all the many means employed by advertisers were brought into use, and Senator Ingalls' eloquent eulogy of that soap was printed in every form that could be devised to attract popular attention. And the worst of it was, the Senator could not deny that very expressions, earnest and glowing as they were, were all his own.—Washington Post.

AN OLD MAN JAILED.

One Jacobs Avenges Himself on the Man Who Swore Against Him.

Yesterday morning one Jacobs, who is employed by Ryan's transfer company, was fined by Mayor Harding for kicking in a door of William Payton's house on St. Mary's avenue.

A dance was in progress at the time and the owner, to protect his premises, used a club.

Jacobs paid his fine, and to avenge himself filed an affidavit against Payton yesterday afternoon for assault and battery, and the mayor assessed a fine which the old man was unable to pay.

Leaning upon the arm of an officer he was taken to jail, where he will serve thirteen days.

Levering's Coffee, 24c. lb.

TEAS, TEAS—Young Hyson, Oolong and Japan.

The high prices of Coffee has induced a great many to try Tea—and when it is considered that a pound of Tea can be had for the price of a pound of Coffee and that it will go twice as far, it is not to be wondered at that there is a great increase in our Tea Trade. The truth is we sell double the quantity we used to a few years ago. Our motto is selling large quantities at a small profit, for we purchase direct of the importers and then in selling direct to our customers we save three profits—the speculator, jobber and the wholesale dealer. We sell a good, rich drawing Tea at 20c. lb., and one grade as low as 10c. lb.

MRS. MORTON'S REMOVAL.

A Fashionable Dressmaking Establishment Takes Up New Quarters.

To day Mrs. Louise Morton vacated her quarters at 126 Calhoun street, and removed her business to 95 East Jefferson street. The location is between Barr and Lafayette street, the fourth house west of Lafayette street, and is as desirable as could be found. The street cars run within a few doors of the place.

It is Mrs. Morton's intention to conduct business on as large a scale as ever. She has in the past attracted much of the best custom of Fort Wayne, the secret of which is her keen conception of fitting and draping to suit all tastes. The most fastidious leave her establishment always with a feeling of satisfaction.

The ladies tailoring system of cutting and fitting garments, one which she has adopted, is a most popular one among the ladies who have their dresses made, a consistent fact too, when it is considered what graceful curves and stylish settings are the results of its use.

Mrs. Morton has surrounded herself with a corps of assistants who know their business to perfection, another big point in favor, as it is indeed an important requirement in fine lines of dressmaking to have hands who have the work down to the perfection of art.

She will also have on hand a full line of furnishings and trimmings of which it is every lady's delight to inspect and select from.

That the new departure of Mrs. Morton will prove pleasant and successful can hardly be questioned, because her trade has been constantly growing greater, at present having exceeded her most sanguine expectations. Congratulations over her prosperity are in order.

Invitation to the Show-Going Public.

Manager Geary invites any gentleman to call at his office, World's Museum, and inspect his scrap books, showing conclusively that he has and will cater to the respectable classes. Other money he don't want.

Columbus Capital, Sunday, Sept. 23: "No place of amusement affords more pleasure to the ladies and children than the World's Museum. This amusement resort is visited by ladies and children unaccompanied by an escort, and being conducted in such an orderly manner, they receive courteous treatment and are entertained and pleased."

Columbus Herald, Sunday, Sept. 30: "A most novel entertainment and exhibition is going on at the World's Museum this week. Nothing more or less than a baby show. Everyone knows what this implies. If the exhibition be a success—and is it necessary to question the success of any enterprise of which Manager Geary has charge—it is certainly surprising to see the number of ladies and children going to the World's Museum unaccompanied. It speaks volumes for the management."

Pittsburg Press, Sept. 10, 1888: "Booth and Barrett rush fades into insignificance beside it. Such was the remarks made while gazing at the crowds surging into the World's last night. The majority of them women and children. Manager Geary is certainly the right man in the right place. No man need be afraid to send his wife or child to the museum as it is conducted strictly first-class."

Next Monday is the opening day for the World's here in Fort Wayne. 3 3t

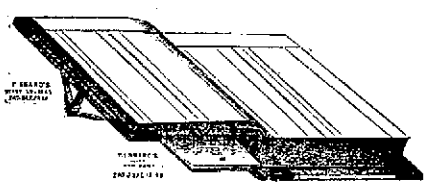
THE LATEST NOVELTIES IN BLANK BOOKS.



And something important to all Bankers, Railroad Officers and Book Keepers in general, are the KINNARD READY BOOK LEVELER AND ARM REST. They are the acme of comfort for all users of office books and large records.

The LEVEL can be used at will for bringing either lid of the book into proper position for writing, and does away at once with the inevitable book under the lid to hold it in position.

The ARM REST is CONCEALED at the bottom of each lid, and can be drawn out at pleasure and adjusted to any height desired.

THE SENTINEL has the exclusive right to sell these books in Fort Wayne.

Anyone desirous of seeing the combination can do so by calling at The Sentinel Office.
